Foreword

The principal motive in publishing this book is a sense of responsibility. It is a feeling that the material herein which has been collected over many years as a part time hobby should not be lost.

It might be thought that genealogy is now out of date and has no place in a world of new ideas and changing values. But the world has always been subject to change and that is almost the only thing that doesn't change. The French say "Plus ca change, plus c'est la meme chose". The more it is changed, the more it is the same thing.

Genealogy has persisted through the centuries. It was a characteristic of the ancient Celts, Teutons and Hebrews and the subject of the bard and the sagas. It was handed down orally before there was written history, by the Polynesians as well as the Irish.

There may be renewed attention now despite a rapidly changing world because of more leisure time and a recently increasing nostalgic interest in the past. It is hard to say what human desire it really fills. It is only partly a sense of family heritage, a study of history, a collecting instinct, or with some a religious concept. Fundamentally, it is an attribute of curiosity. The genealogist is a detective. He follows leads and clues. He fits together pieces of an enormous jig-saw puzzle. It is never complete, and there are missing spaces in this book and loose pieces left over.

For those who do not find their own names or their families, it is hoped that they will find sufficient foundation here to produce an ultimate success. There will be errors, which inevitably arise from repeated copying of records. Many people should be thanked for their help and contributions, but acknowledgments must be made to the following persons:

Dr. W. M. McLean, for material on the Stempel family
Lora Petefish, for the Liter family of Illinois
Leona Lyter Culver, for Lyters of Kentucky and Missouri
Clarence Leiter, for the Leiters of Indiana
Edwin H. Lighter, author of the "Lighter History"
Daniel G. Fox, author of the "Fox Genealogy"
Herbert Bell, author of "History of Leitersburg District"
Letta B. Stone, author of the "West Family Register"
Werner Leutert, for data on the Leutert family of Ottenbach, Switzerland

The Pennsylvania Dutch

Among the Leiter families who left Pennsylvania and Maryland there may be only a vague awareness that they were "Pennsylvania Dutch", without much understanding of its significance. Yet until perhaps three generations ago, this was a vital fact in their lives. By and large, their language, church affiliations, communities and wives were "Dutch". In my family, this was the case until my grandfather left Ohio.

It is not necessary to explain who the Pennsylvania Dutch were to descendants still living in Pennsylvania and Maryland; and this is not the proper place to attempt such an explanation to others, but a few words should be said in the light of the genealogical implications.

There were three religious groups: the Moravians, the oldest Protestant church, dating back to John Hus; the "plain people", including Mennonites, Amish, Dunkards and River Brethren, which descend from the ancient Waldenses and Anabaptists; the "Church people", Lutheran and Reformed, founded by Luther and Zwingli, and comprising the great majority.

There were early migrations to Mississippi, Georgia, North and South Carolina, a large movement to New York in 1710, which was unsuccessful and led to the continuous migration to Pennsylvania, which really began about 1723, although the first colony in this country was at Germantown, Pa. in 1683.

The reasons for the immigration were: war and religious persecution. Wars in the Rhineland and Palatinate had been almost continuous for 100 years. Religious freedom was subject to the edict of the ruler of the area, and the rulers and their religions changed frequently. At the same time, the Anabaptist sects were subject to persecution by the state and the Protestant church.

Most of the early migration was Mennonite, and "most of the early Mennonites were Swiss driven to the Palatinate by persecution, though some of them came directly from Switzerland" (Klees: "Pennsylvania Dutch", 1950)

The Mennonites were anti-war, like the Quakers. They were also anti-infant baptism and anti-established church. They had no professional clergy and did not keep church records. They were "unworldly". They did not wish to change the world, but only to be let alone. They opposed, suspected or reluctantly complied with or used social security, insurance, politics, public education, legal practice and labor unions.

The Pennsylvania Dutch supported the American Revolution. It is estimated they made up one-eighth of the American army. The reputation of the Pennsylvania (sometimes called Kentucky) rifle induced Congress to call up six rifle companies, two each from Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, almost all of which were "Dutch". Washington chose a "Dutch" troop as his personal bodyguard.

In addition to the well known Pennsylvania Dutch towns of Pennsylvania, were Fredericktown and Hagerstown, Maryland, Winchester, Virginia and Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

They gave us the "Kentucky" rifle, the Conestoga or covered wagon, the "stogie", the custom of driving on the right hand of the road, the log cabin, Christmas tree, Christmas candles, Santa Claus, Easter eggs, Easter rabbit, waffles, apple butter, farmers' markets, the 5 & 10¢ store. They built the first paper mill in the U.S., the first stoves for heating houses, the best printing presses, the best glass (Baron Stiegel's) and made the first protest against Negro slavery.

Some famous people of Pennsylvania Dutch descent were: Frick, Cunard, Studebaker, Yerkes, Woolworth, Wannamaker, Herbert Hoover, Henry Ford, Molly Pitcher, Barbara Frietsche, Billy Sunday, William Borah, Huey Long, George Norris, Harold Ickes, Henry Wallace, Jane Addams, Owen Wister, Pearl Buck, Thomas Wolfe, Steven Vincent Benet, James Lick, Elsie Janis, John Sutter, Clark Gable, August Belmont, Estes Kefauver, Arthur Compton, John Peter Zenger, Admiral Schley, Secretary Gallatin, and Generals George Custer, Dwight Eisenhower, John J. Pershing, Anthony Wayne, "Hap" Arnold, Carl Spaatz, Lewis Hershey.

Some genealogical influences are: Larger than average families, concentration of families in certain areas and lack of records among the Mennonites. A few names were repeated frequently. In fact, there was an old custom which lasted until after 1800 of naming every boy John and every girl Anna, with variations in the usage of the name or in a second name.

The Mennonites were about one tenth of the Pennsylvania Dutch. However descendants of the Mennonite families are about one-fourth of the names in this book. We have a significant number of the families of three sons and one daughter of Jacob, and the same of Melchior. Of this total of eight, one of the families was Mennonite. The reason for the disproportionate number, in spite of the lack of church records may be due to three things: 1. The concentration in certain areas, such as Pennsylvania. 2. A tendency to larger families. 3. Valuable help in collecting names.

Tradition and Cognitive Dissonance

Cognitive dissonance is the tendency to maintain preconceived ideas that are not true. One runs across this in family tradition. There is also an axiom: that there is enough good in any theory to merit your attention, but not enough to warrant blind devotion.

One extreme is to believe as an article of faith in a certain family tradition. The other extreme is to discount tradition as entirely worthless.

Some examples of beliefs that are not true: that the Leiters were "Holland" Dutch, usually because of the fact that they were of the "Pennsylvania Dutch". That a particular family was closely related to the Chicago Leiters; obviously, a few were, but the number of close relatives is mathematically limited. That a specific individual changed the name from Leiter to another form; usually this had happened long before. That the original form of the name was Leiter; this will be discussed in detail.

But just as many historical legends, including some in the Bible, have been found to be amazingly accurate, the author has found that there is likely to be a fairly large kernel of truth in the family traditions.

A good example is the story common to the Lyter and Liter families that their ancestor came to this country as a boy with his father (it did not include the mother). Also, that the Kentucky families came, some said from Maryland, some said from Pennsylvania; both were correct.

Persistence, Luck and Serendipity

Success in genealogy is marked by persistence, luck and serendipity. One must perform like a detective in following up all clues and leads, and must be alert to all possibilities in developing new leads.

This project has been pursued over many years, with long periods of inactivity, followed by new activity stimulated by some significant new find.

It began in an attempt to trace the Leiter ancestry, which is not unusual. My knowledge extended only to my grandfather and his mother's family name. I began gathering information about Leiter families at random from county histories, and sent out letters to names gathered from directories. Before long, I had a mass of uncorrelated data. I also got the first break in learning of the Fox Genealogy, which detailed the Ohio family and traced it back to Middletown, Maryland.

Still unaware of the magnitude of the job, I expected to be able to organize the material and classify all of the names into one family. After some years, however, there were still seven major families, whose connection had not been proven. During this time, I had visited libraries, courthouses, examined census returns, tombstones, and continued correspondence.

Two fortunate finds tied three Kentucky families with one in Maryland. First, a deed to one of the sons of Melchior from all of the others, including four sons. Second, the birth records of the Middletown, Md. Reformed Church, among which were some of each of the Kentucky families.

Another one was a real example of serendipity. While looking only for whatever material could be found, a release was located in the Northumberland County, Pa. records, which was a copy of one filed in Washington County, Md., the latter having been mentioned by Bell in his history of the Leitersburg District. This was definite proof that the Pennsylvania Leiter and Lyter families belonged to the Leiter family of Leitersburg. And seven families were reduced to two, which is still the situation.

The prime example of coincidence and serendipity, is in a series of three events, which all occurred within a month. 1. Mr. Hilbig of the Genealogical Society (LDS) Library showed me a book, "Familien-namenbuch der Schweiz", 1940, which gave the location of families by names in Switzerland, and placed Leutert in Ottenbach. 2. A film received on loan from the Lutheran Church of marriages performed at Trinity Lutheran Church of Lancaster, Pa. was examined, looking in vain for Pennsylvania people. But there, unexpectedly, was the second marriage of Melchior in 1750, and his place of origin was mentioned as Ottenbach. This sort of information is very rare.

3. Attending a film showing at an alumni lunch on the use of computers at Lockheed Aircraft, I noticed the name of Leutert as technical adviser. I wrote him and received an answer. Werner Leutert is a computer scientist, who came from Ottenbach. He gave me considerable information about the family, and in fact, he knew of the migration of Melchior to America some 200 years earlier.

Spelling, Meaning and Origin of the Name

The most common form of the name now is Leiter, judging, for example, from names currently found in telephone books. It is found about twice as often as the forms Lighter, Liter or Lyter.

It is a belief and a tradition that the original form was Leiter. A specific ancestor is often mentioned who changed it to what was considered an Anglicized form, or it is said that it was changed by various officials, as in the census, tax list or military service. The latter may be true, but the first statement is not. Leiter was not the original name, and in itself was a type of Anglicization.

In the time of the first two generations, spelling was not at all accurate. There were many spellings: Leiter, Lighter, Leyter, Loiter, Leidert, Leutert, etc. Some of the names were written by others, as in official records, but variations occurred even in cases under the writer's own control, as in wills, church records and Bible records.

Fortunately, we know the form of Melchior's name when he came to America from Switzerland. It was Leutert. This is still the most common use in Zurich Canton. There are 31 Leutert, 24 Leuthard, 5 Luthard, in the Zurich telephone directory.

We can trace the evolution of the name between about 1600 and 1750 from Luthardt- to Leuthart, to Leuthert, to Leutert, to Leitert, to Leiter.

It might be helpful to consider that the pronunciation would remain about the same, as approximately "Loiter". An illustration of the equivalence of the sound of "li" and "leu" is found in the name of the horn player for whom Mozart wrote three horn concertos, whom he called both Leitgeb and Leutgeb. In old Celtic "u" had a tendency to become "ei", as in "Breide" from "Brude" (K.H. Jackson in "Problem of the Picts")

The name is in two syllables. The first, "Lut" "Leut", etc. means "people". The second as "hart" or "hard" means "firm"; or as "her", "here", "haire", "hari", etc. means "army" or "warrior". All of the variations are the equivalent of, or derived from "Liuthard" or "Liuthari".

Albert Heintze in "Die Deutschen Familienamen" gives "Liuthard" as the origin of Luthardt, Ludert, Leutert, Leitert; "Liuthari" as the origin of Luder, Luther, Leiter, etc.

Robert Ferguson in "Teutonic Name System" says that from the old German form "Liudhard" comes the modern German "Luthardt", and French "Leutert"; from the old German "Liuthari" the modern German "Luther".

Perhaps the easiest way to think of it is as the modern Soundex system does, or as the ancient Hebrews or Egyptians would have, who did not have written vowels. Think only of the consonants:

"T" and "D" are interchangeable. Either may be used or dropped at the end. The second vowel is immaterial. The first vowel must have a sound equal to long "i", "oi" or "u".

With all of this in mind, it is interesting to observe just how ancient the name is in one form or another. It was found among the Franks, Goths, Celts, Romans and Scandinavians:

Lutari, 278 BC, King of a Celtic tribe who conquered most of Asia Minor and in effect gave it the name Galatia (Encyc. Brit.)

Ludor, 105 AD, nickname of a gladiator (Pauly-Wissowa Encyc.)

St. Ludre, 4th Century, Lord of Deols, France, his days Nov. 1 and Nov. 4 (Encyc. Brit.)

Litorius, 437, Roman Count and General, defeated at Toulouse by Theoderic, King of the Visigoths (Gibbon)

Helen Lyther, 5th Century, alternative name of Helen Luyddog, "Helen of the Hosts", mythical ancestress of the Welsh Dyfed dynasty. ("Lives of the Saints", S. Baring-Gould)

Lothor, about 460, monk of Glastonbury, mentioned in a charter attributed to St. Patrick, probably spurious, by William of Malmesbury ("King Arthur's Avalon", Geoffrey Ashe)

Litorius or Lutorius, 502, Catholic priest (Pauly-Wissowa)

Leudaris, 536, a Goth left by Witigis to defend Rome from Belisarius. "Leudaris alone, brave old general, refused to quit his post" (Hodgin, "Italy and her Invaders", v.4; also Gibbon)

Leudard, 551, a Frank, sent by King Theudebald as envoy to Emperor Justinian (Procopius, "History of the Wars", v.8)

Leuthari, 553, Duke of the Alemanni, conquered by Clovis, but governed by their own dukes. He invaded Italy with his brother Bucelin, returning home with loot, fell to the plague (Pauly-Wissowa; in "Roman and Teuton", Kingsley calls him "Lothaire")

Lothaire, 558-561, first of four Merovingian Kings of the name.

St. Liuthard, 588, chaplain of Bertha, daughter of Charibert, came with her on her marriage to Aethelbert, King of Kent. He was indirectly responsible for the latter's conversion. All three are buried at St. Peter and Paul's Church at Canterbury. Saints day- Feb. 24

Leuthere, 670, Bishop of Winchester, Dorchester (Encyc. Brit.)

Hlothere, 684, King of Kent

Lothair, 842, son of Louis, grandson of Charlemagne. Signed his name Ludher in Latin in the Oaths of Strassburg, at the division of France, Germany and Lotharingia.

Liotr, 980, Earl of Orkney, son of Thorfin (Skene "Celtic Scotland".)

St. Leuthardt or Luthard, end of 9th Century, honored at Cleves. His day- Sept. 15

St. Lithard, or Liuthard, Cornet, July 12, date not known

St. Ludard, Soissons, Oct. 28

St. Lotaire, martyr in Saxony, Feb. 2 (these from an obscure book of saints in Mt. Angel Abbey, Oregon)

Leutard, 1000, French heresiarch, Vertus, preached church reform

Liuthar, 1002, Margrave, North Mark, Elector

Luder, Heine, d. 1510, grandfather of Luther

Lyder, Hans, father of Luther (Encyc. Brit.)

Luther, Martin, b. 1483, name also spelled Liuter, written in Latin Ludher

Leiters- Fact and Fiction

It would be impossible to list the references made to some of the more prominent descendants, in newspapers, magazines and books, other than genealogies and county histories. This could not be done for Levi Leiter, his son Joseph or daughter Mary, nor for Henry Yessler in the history of Seattle or Henry L. Giltner in accounts of Morgan and his "raiders".

But there are some more obscure cases in fiction and non-fiction that might be mentioned. For example, Star Hoyt Leiter A5C1-L2 in "Pleasant Valley" by Louis Bromfield. Then there is the anonymous character in Carl Carmer's story in "Dark Trees to the Wind" concerning the white trousers which always seemed to bring rain. He was actually Joseph Leiter- A2F2. Roger Stembel-B6C3-was real, but becomes a fictional character in Bern Anderson's "By Sea and By River" and in "Blue Hurricane" by Van Wyck Mason.

Helen Reimensnyder Martin wrote about the Pennsylvania Dutch and the Mennonites in stories such as "Tillie, the Mennonite Maid" and "The Snob", 1924, was a best seller. It was made into a movie with John Gilbert, a prime box office draw in the silents, as the hero. The story is about Leitersville, Jacob Leiter and his granddaughter, all of whom are fictional.

A more modern fictional character is Felix Leiter, who was the CIA counterpart and frequent companion of James Bond, in the Ian Fleming thrillers. The author told me that he was named after his best friend, who was Thomas Leiter- A5E3-C2C.

Notable Members of the Families

Frequently in the past there has been an inclination to overrate those who attained some fame and to place them on an exaggerated pedestal. This produced a natural and healthy reaction, which however sometimes carried too far in down grading and devaluing legitimate achievement.

More recently changing standards of values in society may cause us to minimize such achievement because those of earlier generations do not fall within the presently more restricted limits of our image of people to be admired, respected or emulated.

But it is not a fair test to measure a man of the past by present day standards. He could be judged properly, not by the tests of today, but only by his peers and the tests of his society and his time. To look at him otherwise is to look at him retroactively and entirely out of context.

With this in mind, we present a list of members of the families who have excelled in a variety of fields.

Origin of Families

Melchior of the Middletown family was born in Zurich Canton, Switzerland in 1706 and arrived in this country in 1749. The family has been traced back to the birth of Mathias Luthardt in 1568 in Aargau Canton. Further material will be presented.

The origin of Jacob, of the Leitersburg family, is not certainly known. However, it seems very likely that he was of Swiss origin or extraction, for the following reasons:

1. He is known to have been a Mennonite. H.F. Eshleman in his book, "Annals of the Swiss and German Pioneers of Pennsylvania", 1917, shows that the Mennonites came from Switzerland, either directly, or after previous migration to Holland or the Rhineland Palatinate.
2. Eshleman also shows that most of the earlier arrivals in Pennsylvania were Swiss.
3. Of the names of Jacob's neighbors in Pennsylvania and those who were recommended for land patents at the same time, most are Swiss. Eshleman lists the following Swiss names later found in Lancaster County: Miller (pp.151,187), Good (Gut or Guth, pp. 152, 219), Hoover (Huber, pp. 152,191), Schnebeli (pp.161,196), Bear (pp.170-72).
4. The origin of the one family argues something for the other. There are a number of examples that might be taken as revealing a sort of vestigial memory of the original name of the Leitersburg family: Loiter & Lither, 1790 Census; Leidert, Hantsch's Journal, inventory of John's estate; Leytert, 1757 tax list.

History of Family in Switzerland

As indicated previously, the origin of the Middletown, Maryland family was Switzerland. The way this was discovered has also been described.

Rietstap's Armorial General, 1881, vol. 2 gives the coat of arms of Luthardt of Berne.

The "Historisch Biographische Lexicon der Schweiz", vol. 4, p. 668 states that the Leuthard (Leutert) family of the town of Ottenbach, Canton Zurich, since 1620, originated in the Muri District, Aargau Canton.

In the Staatsarchiv Zurich, A 30 II No. 5, it is remarked "Leuthart, Luttert, etc., a very old family name in Merenschwand (Aargau) and environs, as for instance 'Hans Luttert of Merenschwand, 1512, in Pavia (war)'".

Werner Leutert states that the family originally lived in Merenschwand, Aargau. After the reformation, they left there in 1604, became Zwingli Protestants and moved to the nearest Protestant town of Ottenbach, which was about three miles away, across the River Reuss. He indicates that the name evolved: Luthardt- Luthard- Leuthart- Leuthert- Leutert. The Catholic branch retained the spelling Luthard; the Protestant branch spells it Leutert.

The record of the first family below was obtained from a Swiss genealogist for a Mormon Leuthert descendant, whose line was the same until about 1850.

Mathias, b. about 1568, d. 1631, m. Katharina Wydler

Hans, b. about 1570, d. 1636, m. 1623

Mathias Leuthart, born about 1568, Merenschwand, Aargau, died there Oct. 26, 1631, married Katharina Wydler, born about 1570, died Dec. 15, 1647. Their children were:

Anna, b. about 1592, d. 1627, m. Felix Kunz
Heinrich, b. about 1596, d. 1677, m. Barbel Berli

A. Jacob Leiter

He was born 1706 or earlier, was Swiss or of Swiss derivation and arrived in this country in 1727 or earlier. He was the first one to come to this country, before records of ships passengers were kept. An application of Joseph Leiter-A5E3-C2 to the publishers of the Compendium of American Genealogy stated that he came from Holland about 1716. No evidence was submitted. He may have merely sailed from there as most immigrants did, or he or his family may have lived there for some time.

The date seems too early if he was of age on departure. If he was not there should have been some record of his father in the U.S. If he was, we should have expected him to apply for land before 1727, when he was one of a group recommended by several old settlers for land at Conestoga. Also in the group were Jacob Ryfe, Ulrich Sawk, Rudolph Bear, John Snevely, Casper Horn, John Long, Derrick Miller and Christian Graybill. (Pa. Arch. 3rd. Ser, Vol. 19, p.751; Eshleman, p.226). He must then have been 21. A patent was granted for 200 acres, Dec. 22, 1735, which was surveyed March 6, 1744 and found to contain 368 acres; recorded in Patent Book A-12, p.201:

"From John, Thomas and Richard Penn, New Castel, Kent and Sussex on the Delaware, by virtue of Warrant dated Dec. 22, 1735, Survey March 17, 1744, Jacob Lighter was granted a certain tract of land on the Cheekasalungo Creek, Manor Conestoga, Lancaster County". The metes and bounds give the names of his neighbors: Francis Sipes, Peter Rusht, Ulrich Kingries, James Logan, Hans Adam Hover, Jacob Good.

Jacob was a Mennonite until he went to Maryland. Recently a copy of an original lost from the archives of the Moravian Church has been found of the journal of George Hantsch of his "missionary" work among the Mennonites. The list of visits places Jacob Leidert at White Oak, in Warwick Township. He said: "On Wednesday, June 22 (1748) I went to Jacob Leidert's, who had no time, he was building a new house." He mentions his neighbors Ulrich Junrich and Hannes Reiffs. (Pennsylvania Dutchman, Nov. 1, 1951)

He was taxed in Warwick Township in 1756 and 1759, the name then spelled Leytert (Nat.Gen.Soc.Quarterly). There is no further record of him in Pennsylvania. There is no doubt that he then moved to Washington County, Maryland. A patent was issued to Jacob Lighter on "Burkhead's Dispute", near Antietam, Feb. 2, 1762; and on Sept. 23, 1762 he was deeded 362 acres, part of the Resurvey of "Well Taught", from George Poe, and 116 acres of the same, from William Hall. In 1763 he secured a patent on 1294 acres of "Well Taught". (History of the Leitersburg District, 1898, Herbert C. Bell; and records of Frederick County, Md.)

His will, with name spelled Lyder, was made Feb. 8, 1764, probated Feb. 22. It gave 100 pounds to his second wife, mother of his two youngest sons, and for whom he must have built the new house in 1748. She died before 1776. He left to his oldest son John, who had remained in Pennsylvania, only ten shillings "money of Pennsylvania". Small tracts of land were left to his son Christian.

The "place on which I live", 362 acres, was left to the youngest sons, Jacob and Peter. Other land went to his son-in-law Peter Good. The executors, John Rife and Andrew Hoover, were also to convey by agreement land to: his son Christian, Jacob Good, John Rife, Jacob Riller, Philip Renick and Henry Ford. Some of these names appear in the recommendation and patent in Pennsylvania. Jacob Good moved from Lancaster County to the Leitersburg District in 1765 and was a Mennonite. Jacob's children were:

- A1. John, b. ca. 1734, m. B.....
- A2. Christian, b. 1736, m. Eve Elizabeth
- A3. Abraham, b. 1740, m. Joanna Catharine Fogle
- A4. Elizabeth, b. 1741, m. Peter Bell
- A5. Jacob, b. 1749, m. Juliana Fogle
- A6. Peter, m. Eve Fogle
- A7. Barbara
- A8. Anna, m. Peter Good
- A9. Veronica, m.

A1. John Leiter

He was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. The date is assumed to be about 1734 since he was the eldest son of Jacob, whose next oldest son was born in 1736. He died before April 22, 1790, Paxton Township, Dauphin County, when the inventory of his estate was filed. He was not known to the Leitersburg family except for his name in the will of Jacob which gave him "ten shillings, money of Pennsylvania". Bell's history states "nothing further is known regarding him beyond the fact that he had a son, also named John, who by a legal instrument duly executed, in 1791, renounced all claim to the real estate owned by his grandfather at his death". This release, filed in Washington County, Maryland, was made at the county seat of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. This is proof that this John was a son of Jacob.

There was evidently a serious split in the family since John remained in Pennsylvania and he and his family remained Mennonite. Jacob and the other children went to Maryland and became Lutherans. Neither the Pennsylvania or Maryland families apparently knew or wished to know anything of each other after that time. The following records are available concerning John Sr.:

1759 John Lighter, early settler, west end Derry Twp., Lancaster County (Egle's Notes & Queries, 3-1-375)

1-20-1763 John Lighter, lent money to Jacob Bishop of Derry Twp.
(land records of Lancaster Co.)

1771 John Leiter, taxed on 150 acres, Donegal Twp., Lancaster Co.

8-20-1777 John Lyder, Sr., paid for exemption from military service,
Paxtang Twp., Lancaster Co. (Pa. Arch.)

4-22-1790 John Leyder, Sr., inventory of estate, Dauphin Co.

Dauphin Co. had been part of Lancaster Co. In the inventory he is named as late of Paxton Township, Dauphin Co. It lists assets of 99 pounds. The widow is listed simply as widow B. Leider". Administrators are John Leider Jr. and George Page. The former's signature appears to be "Johannes Leidert". Michael Page is mentioned as son-in-law. He may have been the husband of one of the daughters listed or another not listed. Listed were: John Leyder, Sr., Jacob Leyder, Barbara, Catharine and Elizabeth. He may have had a first wife, Catharine, or this may have been another name of the widow "B". Children, as far as can be determined:

- AlA. John, b. 1758, m. Barbara
- AlB. Jacob, b. 1759-60, m. Barbara
- AlC. Barbara
- AlD. Catharine, b. 1761-64, m. Solomon Walter
- AlE. Joseph, b. 1768, m. Maria
- AlF. Abraham
- AlG. Elizabeth
- AlH. Christian, b. 1775-77
- AlI. Eve M., b. 1776

AlA. John, born 1758, Lancaster Co., died Dec. 4, 1833, Liverpool, Perry Co., m. Barbara, born 1761, died Sept. 8, 1825, dates from tombstones, Barner's Church cemetery, Liverpool and family records. Early records attributable to him are:

- 8-20-1777 John Lyder, Jr., paid for exemption, military service
- 1781-1782 John Lider, 8th & 10th Batt., Lancaster Co. militia, Paxton Twp. (Pa. Arch., 5-7-1007, 2-13-389)
- 1785 John Liter, Bedford Co. land warrant
- 1785 John Lighter, Fayette Co., state tax
- 1785 John Leiter, grant of land, Mahoney Twp., Northumberland
- 1790 John Lither, U.S. Census, Mifflin Co.
- 1791 John Lighter, release to Jacob's heirs, Northumberland
- 1792 John Lyder, Juniata Co. tax
- 1794 John Lyter, Northumberland Co., land warrant
- 1796 John Leiter, Snyder Co. history has him in Mahantango Township, Snyder Co.

Evidently after serving in the Revolution he moved up the river and settled by 1791 in Northumberland Co. Snyder Co. was then a part of that county. "Mennonite Migration to Pennsylvania", by C. Henry Smith, 1929, says that several groups of Mennonites ascended the Susquehanna and located on the Mahantango in Snyder Co. about 1790. "Among the Mennonite names still found here are... Leiter". At a later date he moved to Perry Co., where he was listed at Liverpool in the 1830 Census, between 70 and 80 years old. Fisher's "Snyder County Pioneers" states that John Leiter "may have come from Lancaster County".

Proof that he was the Revolutionary soldier is: 1. He is the only John known to have been in Lancaster Co. at that time. 2. His brother Jacob, named in the inventory, was in the same militia companies. 3. His age is right. 4. He evidently received a land bounty. 5. He is the only John in the 1790 Census in Pennsylvania. 6. There is no other John Leiter who fills these qualifications.

Proof that he is the grandson of Jacob Leiter is in the document by which John, stated by Bell to be Jacob's grandson, releases the other heirs. The release, filed in Washington Co., Md., May 28, 1791 (G-146), begins "John Lighter, grandson and heir of Jacob Lighter, late of Washington County, deceased"... The acknowledgment of the deed shows that it was made at Sunbury, county seat of Northumberland Co., Pa. The known children of John and Barbara, probably incomplete, are:

- AlA1. George, b. 1782, m. Anna Witmer
- AlA2. John, b. 1784
- AlA3. Abraham, b. 1795, m. Anna Flowers
- AlA4. Joseph, b. 1798, m. Feronica Witmer
- AlA5. Fanny, b. 1800, m. William Flowers
- AlA6. Christian, b. 1802, m. Barbara Page

AlA1. George, born Oct. 7, 1782, Lancaster Co., died Sept. 4, 1872, Liverpool, Perry Co., dates established by family Bible and tombstone. He was a well known Mennonite Bishop at Liverpool, ordained a minister in 1829. In 1831 he lived "between Oriental and the Creek", Susquehanna Twp., Juniata Co. He is listed in the 1830 Census, Perry Co., in the 1850 Census at Liverpool. He married Anna Witmer, born Oct. 9, 1781, died Jan. 10, 1859. Her father's will gives her parents as Abraham and Mary, as does the tombstone of her sister "Frany". The Long family history has them as John and Elizabeth, but agrees on the rest of the family. John Witmer, 1750-1817, owned land at McKees 1/2 Falls on the south side of Mahantango Creek. George's children, some not entirely certain:

- AlA1-A. Catharine, b. 1809-10
- AlA1-B. Jacob, b. 1811
- AlA1-C. Henry, b. 1820, m. Mary M. Knouse
- AlA1-D. Elizabeth, b. 1820, m. Abraham Page
- AlA1-E. George, b. 1822
- AlA1-F. John, b. 1815-30, m. Susanna Hoffman
- AlA1-G. Joseph, b. 1824, m. Elizabeth Beck
- AlA1-H. Jacob W., b. 1825, m. Susannah Martin
- AlA1-I. George W., b. 1832, m. Susannah Snyder

AlA1-A. Catharine, b. about 1809-10, listed as age 40 with parents in 1850 Census, Liverpool, Perry Co., evidently single.

AlA1-B. Jacob, b. 10-21-1811, d. 1-14-1829, buried at Barner's Church cemetery, Liverpool, where his grandparents were also buried, presumed to be a son of George.

AlA1-C. Henry, b. 6-7-1820, d. 7-6-1883, dates on tombstones at Lost Creek Mennonite cemetery, near Oakland Mills, Juniata Co., farmer and Mennonite minister. Married Mary Magdalena Knouse, b. 9-2-1820, Northumberland Co., d. 10-4-1906, Juniata Co., buried same cemetery, dau. of Christian Knouse, b. 1786, who settled near the Susquehanna Gap in Juniata Co., and Catharine Obernorf, m. 1828, d. 1852, buried Barner's Church. They are listed in the 1850 Census at Liverpool, 1880 Census in Delaware Twp., Juniata Co.

AlA2. John, born January 2, 1784, Lancaster County, although the A.L. Kingman atlas map of Fulton Co., Ind. 1883 has it Juniata Co. He died May 19, 1828, Chapman Co., Snyder Co., where his will is filed, his brother George executor. He married Barbara Witmer, sister of Anna who married John's brother George Leiter- AlA1, born Dec. 24, 1784, Union Co., died March 4, 1828. Both are buried at St. Paul's Cemetery, Susquehanna Twp., Juniata Co. This is probably the John Lyder who had a warrant for 178 perches of land in 1814 in Northumberland Co. In his "Abstract of Wills, Snyder Co.", Dr. Fisher mistakenly refers to him as Jacob. In his "Snyder County Pioneers", Dr. Fisher says that he died in Chapman Twp. and his will was recorded at Lewisburg in 1828, but confuses him with his father John in saying "John Leiter (also Leider, Liter) may have come from Lancaster County. He was assessed in Mahantango Township in 1796." He left an estate of $ 2,500.

AlB. Jacob Leiter

He was born in Lancaster County about 1759-60. He died in 1826 in Peters Township, Franklin County, Pennsylvania. His wife's name was Barbara. He was a soldier in the Revolution, in 1781 in the 10th Battalion of militia, Capt. Samuel Cochran's Co., Paxton Township, Lancaster County (Pa. Archives, 5-7-1007) name spelled Jacob Lider; and in 1783-84, as Jacob Leiderd, 6th Battalion, Lancaster County militia. He moved from Lancaster County to Franklin County about 1800. In 1800, Jacob Leider of Rapho Twp., Lancaster Co., bought part of a tract called Hopewell in Guilford Twp., Franklin Co., for 1,000 pounds from Andrew Leimaster. (Franklin Co. deeds 5:24). On Aug. 16, 1802, Jacob Lighter of Gilford Twp., Franklin Co. appointed Abraham Rife of Lancaster Co., to acknowledge satisfaction of a mortgage to him from John Flowery on a tract of land in Lancaster Co., adjoining land of George Gantz, Christian Winger & Michael Hoover (Deeds-F-Vol.13,p.644) His will was dated Sept. 8, 1826, probated Oct. 6, 1826, Peters Twp., executor Adam Ryter, names wife Barbara, neighbor Adam Ryter and six children. Other records concerning him are these:

1785	Liter	Bedford Co.,land warrant, 200 acres
1790	Leyder	Named in inventory of his father's estate
1790	Leitert	Listed U.S. Census, Warwick Twp.,Lancaster Co.
1790	Leydert	2nd Batt.,Lancaster Co. militia
1791	Lider	Mortgage from John Flowery in Rapho Twp.
1814	Leiter	with wife Barbara sold land for 3,000 pounds to Jacob Zent and Jacob Snider
1828	Leiter	land on Conodoguinet Creek, Hopewell Twp., Cum- berland Co. sold by Adam Ryter, executor

AlB1. Jacob. He was not named in his father's will, but his identity is established by deeds 15:19, and 16:177, Franklin County, Pa. in 1830, in which he acknowledges receipt of his share of the estate and released Adam Ryder, executor. Jacob was then living in Stark County, Ohio. He was born in 1779, Lancaster County, Pa., died in Stark County, Ohio, March 5, 1876, although his tombstone says that he was 94 years old. He married Elizabeth Bowman, born in Pennsylvania, Jan. 20, 1779. He was a teamster and drove four and six horse teams from Baltimore to some place in Pennsylvania. He moved to Massillon Ohio, in 1830, about the time the Ohio Canal was completed. In 1850 he is listed in Perry Twp. In 1853 he moved to a farm southeast of Navarre, Stark Co. He is buried in Shepler Cemetery, three miles east of Navarre. She died Sept. 9, 1865, buried at Myers Com. Ref. Church, southwest of Massillon. Children:

AlD. Catharine, of Manor Twp., b. about 1761-64, on June 25, 1783 married Solomon Walter at Trinity Lutheran Church of Lancaster

AlE. Joseph Lyter

He was born March 7, 1768, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, died on November 15, 1854, Lower Paxton Township. His wife was Maria, born July 4, 1762, died March 16, 1838. Both are buried in the "graveyard of Christian Lyter on his farm in Lower Paxton Township". (Egle's Notes & Queries, 1899, p. 231). This was known in rather recent times, then just east of and now in Harrisburg, on Route 22. He is the Joseph Loiter of the 1790 Census, Dauphin County, with two males over 16 (one possibly a brother), one under. He can be traced through successive censuses, Londonderry Twp. 1800, Lower Paxton Twp. until 1850, when he then lived with son Peter. He was in the 2nd Co., 2nd Brigade, Dauphin Co. militia in 1794, name spelled Liter. He conveyed on 4-1-1846 to Peter 53 acres of land conveyed to him in 1807 by the executors of Jacob Beck. Jacksonville, later called Enders, was platted by him and George Enders (Kelker, Hist. Dauphin Co., v.1., p.247) Children, possibly incomplete:

- AlE1. Peter, b. 1789, m. Christina Page
- AlE2. Barbara, b. 1791, m. Conrad Beck
- AlE3. Joseph, b. 1795, m. Barbara Walter
- AlE4. Mary, b. 1795, m. George Shirk
- AlE5. Christian, b. 1798, m. Barbara Shope

AlE1. Peter, born March 25, 1789, Lower Paxton Twp., Dauphin Co., died Feb. 12, 1870, Halifax, bur. Halifax Cemetery. The family and the Runk Biogr. Encyc. of Dauphin Co. have his father's name as Christian, but this is proven wrong by the conveyance of land to him from Joseph, unless the latter's name was Joseph Christian. The Encyc. also states that his wife was a Miss Shirk, which is wrong unless she was a first wife who died early. The family history gives his wife's name as Jane Page, born Dec. 19, 1788, died Dec. 16, 1865, Halifax, buried there. In the 1850 Census she appears as Christina, age 61, as also in a deed from the heirs of her father, who was Christian Page, to Peter Lyter, with Joseph Lyter administrator. Peter's name may have been actually Joseph Peter. Kelker's History says that the first smith at Enders was Joseph P. Lyter, but this may have been Peter's son.

AlF. Abraham, listed in the Census of 1790, Dauphin County, Pa. under the name "Loiter", next to Joseph, whose name is given with the same spelling. Presumed to be his brother. Nothing else is known of him.

AlG. Christian. He may be the Christian Leither, listed in the 1790 Census, Cocalico Township, Dauphin County. He may also be the Christian listed in the 1850 Census in Harrisburg, living with Jacob Boas, age indicating birth about 1775-77. If the age is right, he could not be the one in the 1790 Census. If the age is wrong, he might be both.

AlH. Eve Margaretha, born April 1, 1776, shown by the record of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Lancaster, as a daughter of Johan and Catharine Lyder. (Pennsylvania German Society, vol. 4, p. 194)

A2. Christian Leiter

He was born in 1736 in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (date is determined by the Maryland Census of 1776), is said to have died in 1817 in Washington County, Maryland. Bell's History gives the name of his wife as Eve, but it is shown as Elizabeth at the baptism of his daughter Mary Ann in 1774 at the Reformed Church of Hagerstown, and on the record of the birth of Elizabeth in 1758, St. John's Church. This is probably the Elizabeth listed in the 1776 Census, born about 1742. He received the 30 acre tract "Spruce Bottom" by his father's will, to which he made additions. He is shown by the Maryland Debt Books as owner of tracts "Well Taught" and "Burkhead's Dispute", 1767-73. He sold "Well Taught" in 1793. He lived northwest of Leitersburg on the Greencastle Road. He is in the Census of 1790, Washington County, with three males over 16, two under 16 and four females. Bell states that he became financially embarrassed and moved elsewhere, but he is again in the 1800 Census at Hagerstown.

- A2G. Mary Ann, b. 1774

A2A. Elizabeth, born April 13, 1758, record of St. John's Church, probably died before her father.

A2B. Abraham, born 1761, in July 1798 married Elizabeth Dusinger at the Hagerstown Lutheran Church.

A2C. Susan, born 1764, may have been the daughter who, Bell said, married a Mr. Messersmith.

A2D. John, born 1766, may be the one listed in the 1790 Census.

A2E. Magdalena Leiter

She was born 1771, married George Jacobs, who was born March 14, 1763, died Nov. 16, 1790, buried at Jacob's Church, his tombstone the earliest one there. He was the son of Martin Jacobs, who came from Preussdorf, Alsace in 1753, settled in 1761 near Jacob's Church which was named after him; and Barbara Musselman, from Adams County, Pennsylvania.

A2E1. George Jacobs, Jr., born Nov. 24, 1790, Leitersburg District, died May 16, 1878, Iowa Co., Wisc., married Elizabeth Johnston of Hagerstown, June 16, 1812, who died March 26, 1866. They moved in a covered wagon in 1824 to Fulton Co., Ill., moved to Iowa Co., Wisc. in 1844. He was a volunteer in Black Hawk's War.

A2F. Jacob Leiter

He was born in 1772, listed in 1800 Census, Washington Co., Md. He married Mary Catharine, who was born Dec. 30, 1765, Pennsylvania, died May 30, 1862, Monroe County, New York, buried at Lakeside Cemetery, Hamlin, New York.

 A2F5. Frederick, b. 1801, m. Elizabeth
 A2F6. Henry, b. 1805, m. Olive
 A2F7. Martin M., b. 1809, m. Ruth A. Kize

A2F1. Jacob was born in 1795 (in Washington Co., Md.) according to his tombstone, although the 1850 Census gives 1793, and his pension application 1799, died June 3, 1854, m. Sallie, born in Maryland about 1800, died April 12, 1852, both buried Lakeside Cemetery, Hamlin, New York. He enlisted June 20, 1813 as a blacksmith in the Hagerstown Cavalry, Capt. Jacob Baer, Col. Litman, Maryland Volunteers. He applied for a pension Feb. 21, 1853, then living at Clarkson, Monroe Co., N.Y. From Census records it is evident that he and several brothers went to New York between the end of the war and 1820, probably in the group from Washington County, Md. lead by Nathaniel Rochester which settled near the site of Rochester, N.Y. He is listed in the 1850 Census at Clarkson with wife and five children. Other men living at Clarkson in that Census must be sons.

A2F2. Joseph, born Dec. 12, 1797, Hagerstown, Md., died June 30, 1898, Dansville, New York, married Barbara Montz, born Germany, probably 1803, believed to have died April 8, 1904, at Rochester, N.Y., buried Holy Sep. Cem. He served in the War of 1812, according to his obituary in the Dansville Express. He probably went first to the vicinity of Rochester with his brother Jacob, and came to Dansville before 1828. The story by Carl Carmer in "Dark Trees to the Wind" about the anonymous character with the white trousers which provoked rain, although not attributed to him by name is actually about "Joe" Leiter. He was a conspicuous and universally known personage in Dansville, because of his great age, some fondness for the bottle and ownership of several horses of dubious age and value. He was "noted for his eccentricities and ready wit, the oddest man in Dansville" (A.O.Bunnell- "Dansville", which contains his picture). His obituary said: "He was a peculiar character; his eccentricities were conspicuous to the last". He is listed in the 1850 Census. His death certificate establishes his parents as Jacob and Catharine, his birthplace as Maryland.

A2G. Mary Ann, born May 29, 1774, baptized at Zion Reformed Church, Hagerstown, may have been the daughter who married a Mr. Messersmith, according to Bell.

A3. Abraham Leiter

He was born in 1740, in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, died March 2, 1818, at Hagerstown. He married Joanna Catharine Fogle, born 1741, daughter of John Frederick Fogle of Elizabethtown (earlier name for Hagerstown), whose will was probated April 20, 1793. Her sisters, Juliana and Eve, married Jacob and Peter Leiter, respectively.

In 1774, Abraham bought 142 acres of land from Dr. Henry Schnebley, originally part of the tract "Rich Barrens", later called "The Forest", still later part of the farm of Franklin Strite, near Jacob's Church. In 1782, he sold it and moved to Hagerstown. He was in the 1790 Census with one male under 16 and three females; in the 1800 Census at Hagerstown with his wife only. His will, proved, March 9, 1818, mentions daughters Susanna and Judith, the executor his son-in-law, George Shank. He was an officer in the Maryland militia in the Revolution (Maryland Hist. and Gen. Bull., vol. 16, p. 45)

A3A. Susanna, b. 1764, m. Moles

A3B. Judith, b. 1766, on Sept. 27, 1785, married Nathaniel Morgan. In the 1850 Census, she is listed in Beaver Twp., Green Co., Ohio.

A3G. Jacob, b. Dec. 18, 1774, baptized St. John's Church

A3H. Mary Ann, b. July 9, 1777, baptized St. John's Church.

A3I. John, born June 12, 1779, according to Bell's History; June 12, 1780, according to record of St. John's Church

A4. Elizabeth Leiter

She was born in 1741, according to the Maryland 1776 Census. Our only other definite information is from Bell's History, which states that she was a member of the Leiter family. She is not mentioned in her father's will. She married in 1766, Peter Bell, who was born in 1736 in Germany, and probably emigrated with his brother Anthony, who came from Wiesbaden. Together, they bought 248 acres from Peter Shiess, part of "All That's Left" in 1767, near the Mason and Dixon Line, on the main road from Hagerstown to Waynesboro. In 1774 he moved to Hagerstown, where he owned the lot at the corner of Franklin and Potomac, and engaged in merchandising. On Nov. 25, 1776, he was elected a member of the Committee of Observation. The following January, he resigned to take a commission as Captain in the militia in the German Battalion of Colonel Stull, which probably took part in Washington's New Jersey campaign. Captain Bell died in 1778, probably February, and probably as a result of the hardships of the campaign. He was buried in the graveyard adjacent to the old St. John's Lutheran Church in Hagerstown. His will, dated Jan. 21, 1778, witnesses including his brother Anthony Bell and brother-in-law, Jacob Leiter, gave the house in Elizabeth Town (Hagerstown) to his wife, Elizabeth. The inventory of his estate was the first on the official records of Washington County.

A4A. Clarissa Juliana Bell, born 1767, on Aug. 17, 1790, married Francis Bittle. They moved to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

A4B. Frederick Bell

He was born June 29, 1768, in the Leitersburg District, died July 3, 1839, buried at Jacob's Church. On Aug. 17, 1790, he married, first, Rosina Lantz, who died Feb. 13, 1798, daughter of Christian and Elizabeth Lantz. Christian was born in Lancaster Co., Pa., came to Leitersburg in 1775, member Committee of Observation and Capt. in the Maryland Militia. Frederick married, second, on May 24, 1801, Maria Emerick, who died Jan. 20, 1852, daughter of Ludwig Emerick and Susan Emminger. He lived on his father's land, built a large stone house near the turnpike. He owned 603 acres; proceeds of his estate amounted to more than $ 50,000. He was well educated, had a large library and a taste for music. He was an elder of Jacob's Church.

A5. Jacob Leiter

He was born 1749 in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, the first son of his father's second wife, Elizabeth. He died at Leitersburg, will proved July 22, 1814. In 1785 he married Juliana Fogle, born 1752, daughter of Frederick Fogle. (Md. Wills, A-295, Hagerstown). With his brother Peter he received from his father's estate, a share in 362 acres, where his father had resided. Jacob obtained the southern half, including the later site of Leitersburg. Member, Lutheran Church. Listed 1790 Census, 3 males over 16, 4 under 16 and 4 females. Listed 1800 Census at Upper Antietam. In 1778, he signed oath of "Allegiance and Fidelity" to the State of Maryland, Andrew Rentsh's Return, which qualifies descendants for the DAR.

A5A. Elizabeth, born 1769

A5B. Andrew Leiter

He was born 1770, died 1818, both at Leitersburg; married Barbara Kieffer, born in Pennsylvania, daughter of Martin and Elizabeth Kieffer. Members of the Lutheran Church. Listed 1800 Census, with two small boys and two small girls. He was a blacksmith. He laid out the town of Leitersburg in 1815, and sold lots, but the enterprise was not financially successful and he died poor. In 1795, the locality had been known as Liter's Tavern. (Md. Hist. Mag., v. 31, p. 163). It seems probable that the family name had become settled as Leiter about the time the town was founded.

A5B1. Susanna Catharine, born July 3, 1791, baptized at Jacob's Lutheran Church, sponsors the grandparents Jacob and Juliana. She died July 29, 1865. Her first child was the son of Henry Yesler, the son of Henry Yesler and Catharine Stotler, from Pennsylvania. The church record of the birth notes that it was illegitimate. Bell's History and information from the University of Washington library confirm their relationship and give no indication of a marriage. Henry Yesler moved to Iowa. She then married John Leichter, who has not been identified, March 16, 1812, Washington Co. He died and she then married Daniel Lowman, born July 5, 1788, died Jan. 31, 1875, distiller and soldier in a cavalry company of Washington Co. in the War of 1812

A5B1-A. Henry Leiter Yessler, born 9-4-1810, Leitersburg, d. 12-16-1892, Seattle, Wash., in 1839 m. Sarah Burgert, b. Jan. 1822, Ohio, m. 2- at Philadelphia in 1890, Minnie Gagle, b. 1868, of Leitersburg, dau. of John Gagle. Henry was an apprentice house joiner and journeyman at Leitersburg until 1830, when he went to Massillon, Ohio, where he met his first wife. They had two children who died young. He was a carpenter and builder there until 1851, when he went by the Panama Isthmus to Portland, Ore. There he bought a saw mill, and on the advice of a sea captain took it to Puget Sound, where the handful of settlers at a place then called New York induced him to join them. His saw mill was erected in 1853, and the business center of Seattle was built around it. He employed and was friendly with the Indians, which became a considerable asset during times of Indian troubles. The city was named Seattle after the chief of the tribe. Henry built many buildings and a large mansion and a large fortune. In addition to being the virtual founder of the city, he was twice Mayor, several times Commissioner of King County, and the first Auditor of Washington Territory. He was known as the "unofficial mayor" and as Seattle's "first citizen" until his death, when flags were lowered to half mast throughout the city. The Seattle P.I. said "his name is written on every page of its history". Hines History of Washington, 1893, gives his biography, with his picture, first place in the book. His estate was valued at more than $ 2,000,000, and there was a contest between his wife and his half-brothers and sisters and their heirs. He had left no will that could be found, although it was contended that it had been burned. The estate was finally divided among the contestants. The road down which oxen "skidded" logs to his saw-mill, known today as Yesler Way, was the first "skid road", and thus the origin of the term "Skid Road" (improperly called "Skid Row") (Stewart Holbrook: "Holy Old Mackinaw", also article in the Portland Oregonian, Aug. 19, 1956).

A5D. John Leiter

He was born June, 1776, according to Maryland State Census, died about 1829, in either Peters or Montgomery Twp., Franklin Co., Pa. Letters of administration were granted first to Henry Leiter and John Brubaker on 7-27-1829 (# 2571, Franklin Co.). Estate papers name the children Henry, John, George and Sarah. His wife was Magdalena Lidy, according to the Sourbeck family history (Seilheimer collection at Pennsylvania State Library) and birth records of three daughters have Magdalena. However, two church records have the name Catharine, including the baptism of his nephew John- A5C2. The latter was born in 1802 and considering the dates of birth of Anna Maria and Matilda, Catharine must have been another name of Magdalena. John was a cooper and taught the trade to his son-in-law John Brubaker. John and Catharine were members of the Greencastle Reformed Church in 1818 and 1823.

A5D1. A daughter, born April 14, 1793, to John and Magdalena, baptized at Jacob's Lutheran Church near Waynesboro, Pa., sponsors the uncle Andrew and Barbara (DAR-84-231)

A5D2. Henry, was confirmed 1824, German Reformed Church of Greencastle, Pa., letters of administration of his father's estate were granted to him in 1829. Nothing else is known of him.

A5D3. Samuel, no information learned of him

A5D4. Anna Maria, born Aug. 10, 1801, to Johannes and Magdalena, baptized Zion Reformed Church of Hagerstown, sponsors the parents. This is no doubt the daughter which the family has as Mary. She was confirmed at Greencastle Reformed Church in 1827.

A5D5. Matilda, born June 8, 1803, to Johannes and Magdalena, baptized at Zion Reformed Church, Hagerstown. The date of birth agrees with that given in the Sourbeck history, which states that she belonged to the Leiter family who were early settlers in Maryland. She died May 2, 1875. She married John Brubaker, born May 22, 1797, Antrim Twp., Franklin Co., died 1885, son of Peter Brubaker and Elizabeth Hoover. His first wife was Eby. He was apprenticed to Matilda's father in the cooper trade, and was administrator of his estate.

His family is the most famous of all of the Leiters. He left Leitersburg in 1853, went to Springfield, Ohio, drove a team for a grading contractor while living with his father's cousin, David Leiter-A5C1. He went to Chicago, where he and Marshall Field were clerks in Potter Palmer's dry goods business. In 1865 they bought into the business, which at that time became Field, Palmer & Leiter, later Field & Leiter until 1881. "The immense store of Field, Leiter & Co. was a bulwark against the great Chicago fire" (Land of Long Horizons, W. Haulghurst, 1960, p.335). Levi was noted for his civic activities and philanthropies. In 1881, he sold his interest in the Chicago store, which then became Marshall, Field & Co., and moved to Washington, D.C., where the family was socially prominent. His picture is in the National Cycl. American Biography, vol. 17, p. 472. Mrs. Leiter died in Washington in 1913.

A5E3-C1. Mary Victoria, b. 1866, d. 7-18-1906, London, England.

She attended Barr School in Washington, where she was active in society, a close friend of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, and a frequent guest at the White House. She was considered one of the most beautiful women in America. (Famous American Belles, by Virginia Peacock, contains her picture.) On 4-22-1895, she married Lord George Nathaniel Curzon, b. 1859, 5th Baron Scarsdale, Marquess of Kedleston, Baron Ravensdale; the wedding was attended by the Cabinet and the diplomatic corps. They had met at the White House and corresponded while he was traveling around the world. He was the leading English statesman of his time, Member of Parliament,

Foreign Secretary in Lord Salisbury's Cabinet, and Viceroy of India. She is credited with having a great influence on his policies. Her picture is in "Life of Lord Curzon" by the Earl of Ronaldshay, 1927, also in Time Magazine, Dec. 21, 1959

Williams of Washington and May Hewitt of St. Louis. He was famous as a wheat speculator, the only man who ever cornered the wheat market. At the age of 29, in 1897 he foresaw a world shortage and began to buy. When the price reached 90¢ Philip Armour began to sell short. By Dec. Leiter owned 35 million bushels, more than any man before or since. Armour was short some nine million bushels, but broke the corner by delivering actual wheat across the frozen Great Lakes. Leiter had to buy to support the market, but ultimately there was no way for him to dispose of his wheat after the price had reached $ 1.85 in May 1898. It was reported that his father Levi had to pay his losses of some $ 10,000,000. In 1927 there was extended litigation by his sisters in an attempt to remove him as trustee of their father's estate. His picture is contained in Nat'l. Cycl. of American Biography, vol. 36, p. 213.

B. Melchior Leutert

The history and genealogy of earlier generations of his family is given in the introductory pages of this book. He was born Aug. 22, 1706, at Ottenbach, Canton Zurich, Switzerland, died June 24, 1771, near Middletown, Frederick County, Maryland. His family had moved in 1716 to Maschwanden, where he was married on Jan. 23, 1737, to Barbara Frick, born Oct. 9, 1712, Maschwanden, daughter of Hans Jacob and Anna Frick. Melchior arrived in this country Sept. 11, 1749, on the ship Priscilla from Rotterdam (Strassburger and Hinke), with his first five children, but his wife, Barbara, had died on board the ship on Sept. 2, 1749, as noted in the Zurich Staatsarchives.

Melchior was married again Feb. 20, 1750, in Lancaster, Pa., by Ludwig F. Vock, pastor of the Reformed Church, to Salome, widow of Adam Henry Burger, of Lichstall, Basle, Switzerland (Record of the First Reformed Church of Lancaster, copied by William Hinke, 1937). The family then lived near Jonestown, now Lebanon County, Pa., as shown by the records of the births of two children at the Swatara Reformed Church in 1752 and 1754. By 1757 they had moved to Frederick County, Md., where he is recorded as having received payment for service in the French and Indian War, on Capt. Bainbridge's Muster Roll, name spelled Melker Liter (Maryland Hist. Mag., vol. 9, p. 328). His daughter Elizabeth was married May 28, 1758 at the Reformed Church of Frederick. His first land purchase was on March 16, 1761 from George Sutiner of the tract "Loving Brother", 100 acres, by a spring running into Catoctin Creek, and on May 19, 1762, a deed was recorded on "Widow's Design", 50 acres, by the side of Toms Branch of Kittocation Creek. These locations were a short distance west of Middletown. The Maryland Debt Books list him as owner of "Loving Brother" from 1762 to 1769, the name erroneously spelled Michael. He also appears on the muster roll of the militia, with Peter Beaver, March 4, 1767 (Colonial Payrolls, p. 181). The family name was written in many different ways, recorded by other persons, as follows:

Leeder	1749	Arrival on ship (Strassburger & Hinke)
Leuthert	1750	Marriage record, Lancaster Co.
Leydert	1752-4	Birth records of children, Lebanon Co.
Leitert	"	"
Liter	1757	French & Indian War-28 days service
Leitert	1758	Marriage of daughter Elizabeth
Lighter	1761	Deed
Leutter	1773	Will in German
Leuder	1774	Inventory of estate

His will was proved April 14, 1773, filed at the Hall of Records, Annapolis. It gave one third of his estate to his wife, Salome, and divided the balance equally among all of the named eight children. His sons Henry and John were named as co-executors. His signature was simply "M.L.", and she signed as Salome Leutert. Henry assigned his right as executor to John, presumably because he was then living in West Virginia, signature Heinrich Leutert.

Melchior may have had a sister, or other relative, whose name was given as Anna Maria Leidert, wife of Henry Dubs, in the record of baptism of his son Melchior, Jr. He may also have had a brother, or other relative, Conrad Lighter, whose property is listed next to that of "Michael" Lighter in the 1762 Debt Book. He may also have had a daughter Salome Lueder, who married Daniel Jacob Aug. 19, 1767 in Frederick County, and who was confirmed at the Middletown Reformed Church, July 1, 1775. None of these names appear in his family as disclosed by the records in Switzerland.

By the terms of his will, his property was sold by his wife Salome, and all of the other named heirs, for 450 pounds, to Andrew Smith, husband of his daughter Elizabeth, by deed dated Nov. 25, 1775. (Frederick Co. Deeds, W-385). Salome bought Lot # 7 in Middletown in 1774, which she sold in 1778 to her son-in-law Frederick Stempel. In that year she bought Lot # 11 in the Addition to Fredericktown. She died some time between then and 1784, when Lot # 11 was sold by her heirs. (Frederick Co. Deeds, V-171, RP-467, RP-363, WR # 5-122).

The first five children listed below were Barbara's, the last four were Salome's. The two sons Henry and the two sons John were all named in the will, as "Henry, the Elder", "Henry, the Younger", etc.

- B1. Elizabeth, b. 1737, m. Jacob Keller; Andrew Smith
- B2. Henry, b. 1740, m. Catharine Beaver
- B3. John, b. 1742, m. Elizabeth Young
- B4. John, b. 1747, m. Catharine
- B5. Regina, b. 1748, m. John Plumb
- B6. Esther C., b. 1750, m. Frederick Stempel
- B7. Anna Maria, b. 1751, m. George M. Rohr
- B8. Melchior, Jr., b. 1752
- B9. Henry, b. 1754, m. Catharine Staley

B1. Elizabeth Leutert

She was christened Aug. 25, 1737, Maschwanden, Zurich Canton, Switzerland. She married on May 28, 1758 at the Reformed Church of Frederick, Jacob Keller, who died before Nov. 1, 1765. (Brumbaugh-Maryland Records). She married, second, Andrew Smith before the date of Frederick County deed-U-178, Nov. 8, 1773, which conveyed from Andrew Smith and wife Elizabeth, formerly Elizabeth Keller, to John Keller, the Resurvey on Rams Horn (which had been conveyed to Elizabeth Smith on June 22, 1768, by Jacob Keller and wife Mary.) Jacob is described as her son, but he must have been only a step-son.

The inventory of the estate of Melchior, May 6, 1773, mentions relations Henry Leuder and Andrew Smith. In Frederick Co. deed W-385, made Nov. 22, 1775, all of the other heirs of Melchior conveyed property including Resurvey of Loving Brother and Widow's Design, the latter tract called "Middletown", total 150 acres, to Andrew Smith, and Elizabeth, daughter of Melchior and wife of Andrew Smith.

The will of Andrew Smith, made Nov. 1, 1804, proved March 11, 1808, (Frederick Co. Wills GM-RB # 1-369), gives a life estate to his wife Elizabeth, at her death all of the real estate to his son Henry, subject to a bequest to the only daughter Elizabeth, to the two grandchildren, Elizabeth and Magdalena Hemp, and to step-son Andrew Kellar.

B2. Henry Leiter

He was christened March 13, 1740, at Maschwanden, Canton Zurich, Switzerland. The date agrees exactly with that handed down in the family Bible. In accordance with the family tradition, he came to this country with his father, living first in Pennsylvania, then in Frederick County, Maryland. The first actual record there is a deed recorded Feb. 23, 1765, Jacob Flooke to Henry Leighter of Frederick Co., part of "Resurvey on Learning". On Dec. 12, 1769, deeds were recorded, indicating sale of this tract to Peter Beaver and Adam Smeltser. At about the same time, Peter Beaver, his father-in-law, conveyed to him 275 acres on Lick Run, a drain of Patterson Creek, near Romney, Hampshire Co., West Va. (then Va.) The birth record of his daughter Catharine in Middletown, however, indicates that he did not move there until at least 1771. There are various records of his presence in Hampshire Co., witness of a lease in 1775, name Henry Leiter, witness of the will of Jacob Good in 1780, other deeds from 1780 to 1793. He is listed in the state census in Hampshire County, as Henry Lighter, in 1782, and Henry Liter, in 1784.

In about 1764 he married Catharine Beaver, born July 15, 1743, dau. of Peter Beaver, Jr. and Elizabeth ... Peter Beaver, Sr. lived in Hirschland, Germany, in 1733. Peter, Jr. was born about 1718, came to this country Sept. 3, 1739, lived in Bucks and Berks Cos., Pa. (Pa.Arch. 3-24-112). In 1762, he had a land grant from Lord Fairfax in Hampshire Co. His son Mathias was born about 1750. Peter moved to Frederick Co., Md. between 1769 and 1772. (Beaver History, by Rev. I. M. Beaver, 1939).

In 1793, as indicated by deeds of the sale of his lands in West Va., the family moved to Bourbon County, Kentucky, with the Kleiser family. This agrees with family tradition, which had it that his son, Henry, Jr. had explored down the Ohio River on a raft and returned full of enthusiasm about Kentucky. However, his brother John Liter, had already moved there, by 1787. They lived on a farm six miles from Lexington, midway between Lexington and Paris, near the Fayette County line and not far from the Kleisers and the John Liters. They were buried in the Hopewell Church graveyard, also known as the "Kleiser graveyard", "back from the road near the intersection of the Houston-Antioch and Stewart roads". The family was active in the Hopewell Presbyterian Church, near their residence. They "assisted in building the Hopewell Church where their children were baptized for more than a generation" (Van Meter Genealogy, B.F. Van Meter, 1901). Henry died Oct. 28, 1807, will proved Sept. 1808, witnessed by his brother-in-law Mathias Beaver and his son, Michael Beaver. Catharine died March 13, 1823.

B2A. Elizabeth Leiter

She was born Aug. 6, 1765, in Frederick County, Maryland, died in the great cholera epidemic in Bourbon County, Kentucky, June 30, 1833. In 1788, she married Joseph Kleiser, born Dec. 25, 1763, in Switzerland, died July 30, 1846, Bourbon County, buried in the Kleiser graveyard. He was said to be descended from John Von Kleiser, Knight of the Crusades. He left Switzerland in 1780 for London, where he was an apprentice to his uncle John Kleiser, a clockmaker, and then came to Virginia. The Kleisers moved with the Leiters to Bourbon County, Ky. in 1793. Their home was near the Hopewell Church.

B2B. Henry Lyter, Jr.

He was born Oct. 23, 1768, Frederick County, Maryland, died Aug. 5, 1842, Bourbon County, Kentucky. The family legend is that when he was about 19 he went down the Ohio River on a raft to Cincinnati, crossed into Kentucky, returned home to West Virginia and persuaded his family to move to Kentucky, which they did in 1793. However, his uncle, John Liter-B3, had already been in Kentucky since 1786 or 1787. He was married in Lincoln County on Sept. 23, 1797, to Barbara Ruffner, born Feb. 2, 1778, Virginia, dau. of Reuben Ruffner and Catherine Deger (Ruffner History, by Mrs. Olive Ruffner). He is said to have walked 30 miles every two weeks to court her. They lived on a 300 acre farm and were members of the Hopewell Church. He executed a deed in 1822 for a church lot to Jonas Markey and others; Joseph Kleiser was surety. His will was proved Oct. 4, 1842 (Will Book M-71), leaving personal estate, including ten slaves to his wife and a life interest in the land, and notes from his son Reuben to the latter's children. Barbara lived with her son John in the county in 1850, died Aug. 29, 1850; her will mentions John and daughter Catharine. Both Henry and Barbara were buried in the Kleiser graveyard, name spelled Leiter on the tombstone, as it was on his marriage license and in a legal case, involving "one Leiter" and "one Kleiser" (6 Dana 137). After his death, however, the name became established as Lyter, and so has remained with all of the descendants.

B2B2. Samuel, born March 18, 1803, Bourbon Co., Ky., died Sept. 26, 1883, Davenport, Iowa, on Nov. 22, 1824, married Sophia A. Reese, born Feb. 14, 1803, Ky., died April 17, 1886, Chicago. On the same day they left on horseback and traveled 600 miles to Pike Co., Mo., where they lived for a time with his brother Henry-B2B1. Samuel was a merchant and an early settler at Davenport, as indicated by a memorial tablet honoring early settlers there. The 1850 Census indicates that they were in Illinois in 1835, and in Iowa by 1845. There is an apocryphal story in the family that Samuel moved to Iowa, because his mother would not allow his wife to ride in her carriage, because she was of German ancestry. This is impossible because Barbara Ruffner Lyter was of German (that is, Swiss) descent herself, and because she lived in Bourbon Co., Ky.

B2B3. Mary, born Feb. 8, 1804, Bourbon Co., died Nov. 12, 1879, Carrollton, Ky., on Sept. 9, 1824, m. Michael Giltner, born Feb. 1, 1801, Bourbon Co., died July 1, 1865, son of John Francis Giltner and Anna Elizabeth Boyer. They are listed in the 1850 Census with their youngest children in Dist. # 2, Carroll County, on a farm valued at $ 19,000. Francis, Catharine and Elizabeth Giltner are shown as members of the Hopewell Church at Paris (Ky. Hist. Reg. Vol. 28).

The Giltner family was allied with the Lyter and Liter families by several marriages, and also with the Boyer, Troutman, Hutsell and Sidner families. John Francis Giltner on 5-29-1748 m. Catharine C. Weber, b. 1725, Amsterdam. There is a story, probably apocryphal, that she was the daughter of a wealthy man who was angry when she married a soldier in Prince Frederick's guard and specified that her portion of his property should be held in trust to the 5th generation. (Biog. Cyc. of Ky., Gresham, 1896). Such a trust would be illegal in this country. He died in 1774, Northampton Co., Pa.; she died 1809. They had five sons in the Revolution.

One of them was Bernard, b. 1749, probably Lancaster Co., Pa., who came to Ky. by flatboat. He obtained a Virginia land grant for his Revolutionary service in 1790 of 90 acres on Huston's Creek in Bourbon Co. (Jillson). He mar. Catharine Lichtenwalter, b. 1751, d. 1818, Carroll Co. Their children:

Abraham, b. 1768, m. Catharine Liter, b. 1768, dau. of John
John Francis, m. Anna E. Boyer, dau. of Christopher
Michael, m. Catharine Giltner
John, m. Catharine Hutsel
Mary M., m. Melchior Couchman

John Francis, 1770-1849, was the founder of the "Hunter's Bottom" family. He sold his farm in Bourbon Co. and moved to Carroll Co., where he had a large estate. His wife's father Christopher Boyer was a Revolutionary soldier.

He enlisted as a private in the Confederate Army, rose to be Colonel of the 4th Kentucky Cavalry, was acting Brigadier, and Brigadier General in 1864-65. He was Aide-de-camp to General H. Marshall 1861-62. He became the principal officer under General John Hunt Morgan, the famous "cavalry raider", in the summer of 1864, when Morgan resumed his command after having escaped from prison. "Morgan and His Raiders", by Cecil F. Holland, MacMillan, 1942, contains much material about Henry L. Giltner. It says "His (Morgan's) command was decidedly bettered by the acquisition of Colonel Henry L. Giltner's Fourth Kentucky Cavalry, which was transferred to southwestern Virginia at this time. A rugged, able, soldier of unquestioned honesty, Giltner commanded a well disciplined regiment." See also "Battles & Leaders of the Civil War", Century. Giltner surrendered April 30, 1865.

She was a sister of Malita, who married Reuben's cousin, Jonas Kleiser-B2A9. Milton Stapp, brother of Achilles, was a General in the War of 1812. John Millbank, father of Ann, is said to be related to the Millbanks of Hal-naby, of whom Anna Isabella in 1815 m. Lord George Byron. A sister of the latter's mother, Judith Noel, was an ancestor of Lord Curzon, who married Mary V. Leiter-A5E3-C1.

Reuben was a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives in 1839. He was a large land and cattle owner. The family story is that he thought he could do better in Texas, sold out in Bourbon Co. and went to Louisville. There, a cousin, Hersman, persuaded him that since there was no convenient place for either men or cattle off the Ohio River boats at Louisville, he should build one. He then built the Bourbon House and stock yards, where he lived until he sold out to Hersman, and bought a house at 1st and Green Sts. After his death, his wife moved to San Antonio and lived with her daughter Amanda.

B2B8. John A., born 1818, Bourbon Co., listed 1850 Census there, with his mother and nephew, Henry Miller-B2B4-A. The story in the family is that he married the divorced wife of his overseer, after which they moved to Missouri and lived with his nephew, Alexander-B2B1-A. They died at about the same time from typhoid fever, leaving two Lyter boys and one or more children of Mrs. Lyter's first husband, who were all taken to Decatur, Ill. by her family.

B2B8-A. Oscar, b. 1858, Pike Co., Mo.

B2B9. William, unmarried, lived in Kentucky

B2C. Catharine, was born May 1, 1771, Frederick County, Maryland; the record of the Middletown Reformed Church has "Catharine Leutert", daughter of "Heinrich and Catharine", sponsors Melchior and Salome. She married John Huffman, who was deeded land in Hampshire County, West Va. by her father in 1790. They were members of the Hopewell Church of Paris, having transferred in 1818 from the West Swamp Church (original register of Hopewell Church.) John and Catharine sold land to Henry Lyter- her brother in 1825. John died before May 7, 1832, when John Huffman, Jr. became administrator of his estate. Their children not definitely known.

B2C1. John Huffman, Jr., administrator of his father's estate

B2C2. Lyter Huffman, referred to as a son of John in a curious proceeding of the church in 1825 in which John was accused of swapping a horse on Sunday.

B2C3. Michael Huffman, also mentioned in the above proceeding

B2D. Susan, was born in 1773, not known whether Frederick County, Md. or Hampshire County, West Va. She died Feb. 17, 1817. Her tombstone is in the Hopewell or "Kleiser" graveyard. She married Peter Smelser (Smeltzer). He may have been the son of Peter, who died in Bourbon Co. in 1799, or the son of Adam Smeltser, to whom Susan's father, Henry, conveyed a tract of land in Frederick Co., Md., in 1769. The following marriages occurred in Bourbon Co. It is not known if these were children of Peter and Susan, but some of them may have been.

Sarah	John Smelser	9-30-1802
John	Abigail Kiplinger	3-12-1807
John	Polly Boon	5-20-1817
Peter	Patsy McConnell	12-10-1824
Henry	Elizabeth Branham	11-28-1825
Nancy	Sidenham Talbott	9- 6-1831
Catharine	Joseph H. Huffman	11-25-1824

B2E. Mary, was born in March 1776, Hampshire County, West Virginia. She may have been the Mary Liter, listed as a member of the Hopewell Church, who died in 1832 (Hist. Reg., vol. 28); or the Mary Leiter, who died Feb. 10, 1857 (tombstone, "Kleiser cemetery".) She was probably unmarried. Her father's will (he died in 1807) said: "If my daughter Mary should get well and should take a notion and marry, that she is to have but an equal share among the rest of my children."

B2F. Nancy, was born in Feb. 1779, Hampshire County, West Virginia, died July 4, 1849, Bourbon County, date on tombstone in the Kleiser cemetery. She married Jonas Markey, who died in Aug. 1830, Bourbon Co. They were active members of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church. Jonas was a trustee in 1822, and Henry Lyter-B2B executed a deed to him of land for the church. His will donated 18 acres which he bought from Doctor Mayerback to the "stated preacher of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church forever". He provided that Nancy should set free any part of his slaves, or the whole of them, or that it should be done at her death, providing they could be sent out of the country; and that they should be hired out for a year and the hire appropriated "to the benefit of removing them". Nancy gave a deed to the church to carry out his bequest to it in 1832. (Ky. Hist. Reg., vol. 35). Nancy lived at Lexington in 1840.

B2G. Sallie, is said by the family to have married a man named Hersman. On one hand, it seems likely his name was George. There was a George Hiersman in the Census of 1782 in Hampshire County, West Va., also listed in Harrison Co., Ky. in 1800, and as a witness in proving the will of Jonas Markey. On the other hand, in a land transaction and on the register of the Hopewell Church, George's wife is named as Barbara Ann. The story about Reuben-B2B5 also refers to a Hersman cousin. No will or record of estate is found in Bourbon County. There is a tombstone of a child, probably theirs, in the Kleiser cemetery:

B2G1. William Hersman, born March 1818, died July 17, 1820.

B3. John Leiter

He was born in Maschwanden, Canton Zurich, Switzerland, christened on May 27, 1742, died in 1810, Jefferson County, Kentucky. He is referred to in his father's will as "John, the elder", named as co-executor. After his brother Henry resigned, he signed "Johannes Leutert", sole executor. He was named in the deed of Nov. 22, 1775, by the heirs to Andrew Smith. He went to Kentucky some time between 1786, when his daughter Barbara was born in Maryland, and 1793, when his daughter Sarah was born in Kentucky. He is on the Jefferson Co. tax list in 1800. His will was filed (name given as "Hans") March 12, 1810 (Filson Quarterly, Jan. 1932-p. 236). Executors were his son-in-law, Amasa Burt, and his wife, who was Elizabeth Young. She died Oct. 21, 1821, will recorded March 11, 1822, executor her son, Jonathan. She left her estate to sons Jonah and Jonathan, providing they furnished homes for daughters Barbara and Sally; requested that the sons hold land leased to Transylvania Seminary, where they were living, until the lease expired. Family name is now Liter.

B4. John Leiter

He was born at Maschwanden, Canton Zurich, Switzerland, christened Jan. 15, 1747, came to this country with his father, his mother having died Sept. 2 on board ship which arrived Sept. 11, 1749. They lived first near Jonestown (then Lancaster Co.), Pa., but by 1757 had moved to Frederick County, Md. This accords with family tradition some of which has him in Lancaster Co. and some in Frederick Co. He is called "John, the younger" in his father's will in 1773. In the deed of 1775 from the heirs to Andrew Smith, he is specifically named as "John Lighter the younger, of Maryland". He married Catharine in 1767 or before. Both John and Catharine were confirmed at the Reformed Church of Middletown in 1767, her name written as Mrs. Catharine Leidert.

His brother, John the elder, went to Kentucky, probably first to Bourbon Co., some time after 1786. It is not known who went first, or if they went together. The name in the Bourbon Co. tax list for 1787 could be for either. The name in the original record of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church is definitely that of this John and gives a date for him of 1787.

Family tradition states that he went with one of Daniel Boone's companies to Kentucky in 1774, buying 10,000 acres of land, title to which was later invalidated. That was not uncommon in Kentucky at this time. He may have made more than one trip before permanent settlement. He is said to have lived at Grant's Fort, a mile or two from Hopewell Church. He is said to have lived at Bryant's Station for 3 years and to have bought land four miles from it. (Hist. Ky., Battle, Perrin & Kniffin). He continues to appear on the tax lists 1788-1799, and is in the Census of 1810. The name was spelled variously as Liter, Lyter, Lighter and Leiter. It became established as Liter in the family. He died between Dec. 1823 and Nov. 1825, when his will was proved. (Will Bk. G-324). Catharine was born about 1746, in Pennsylvania and died after John. They were active members of Hopewell Church as late as 1821. He and John, Jr. signed petitions to establish a town of Bourbon Courthouse (later Paris) in 1789.

There is a memory in the tradition of this family of the migration from Maryland, and it is mentioned in the History of Morgan Co., Ill., Morgan Scott, 1885 in a sketch of a grandson, and in the West Family Register, Letta B. Stone. The Liter family preserved a memory of the Lyter family, and the converse is also true. The two families lived close together, were members of the same church and married into some of the same families.

B4A. Catharine Liter

She was born in Frederick County, Maryland, on July 30, 1768, according to Mrs. Stone. There is a birth record for Catharine of Feb. 5 1776 at the Reformed Church of Middletown, but this seems likely to be an error for or a second name of Elizabeth. The first date fits better with her marriage date, and she is known to be the eldest daughter. On Aug. 1, 1789, in Bourbon County, she married Abraham Giltner, born Nov. 16, 1768. Both died in Kentucky. He was the son of Bernard Giltner, b. 1749, probably a Revolutionary soldier, and Catharine M. Lichtenwalter (Lichtenwalner). For additional material of the Giltner family, see Mary Lyter-B2B3.

B4C. John Liter, Jr.

He was born in 1770, Frederick County, Maryland. There is a conflict as to his death. His will has been said to have been proved Nov. 3, 1845 in Ralls County, Missouri. However, John Liter, indicated dead as of March 9, 1853, made application for pension as the administrator of the estate of Christian, who died in 1851. On July 16, 1790, in Bourbon County, Ky., he married Susanna Coons. Her guardian was Matthias Beaver, brother of Catharine Beaver, wife of Henry Leiter-B2. John is listed in the Bourbon Co. tax list of 1792. In 1796 he is listed with 23 acres on Huston Creek, name given as John Litort, Jr. In the 1799 Ky. Census his name is spelled Lyter. He was an ensign in the 13th Ky. Regt., Bourbon Co., Dec. 5, 1802, the "Corn stalk" militia (Ky. Hist. Soc. 1957). He was a ruling elder of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church on its organization in 1810 (Ky. Hist. Reg., vol. 28). In 1824, he was a pioneer immigrant to Jasper Township, Ralls Co., Mo.

B4D. Lewis Liter

He was born about 1772, Frederick County, Maryland. He and his wife, whose name is not known, and one or more children, died in the great cholera plague in Kentucky in 1833. The remaining members of the family bought land adjoining that of their uncle Jacob, in Illinois, where they moved in 1843. Lewis is listed in the Bourbon Co., Ky. tax lists, 1793-99. The family story is that he was a well known Indian fighter and good friend of Daniel Boone. Once he and Daniel escaped together from captivity. He had not been home for two years. It is reported that a slave came into the house and said, "Marse Lewis ghost is in the yard". On investigation, he was found, very emaciated, having lived on berries, leaves, etc.

B4E. John Jacob Liter

Although he was known as Jacob, he is probably the John Jacob Leider who was born March 30, 1774, from the records of the Middletown, Md. Reformed Church; died about April 5, 1847, Morgan Co., Ill. The name of his wife is not known. He is listed in the Bourbon Co., Ky. tax list of 1799. He moved with his family from Fayette Co., Ky. to Morgan Co., Ill. in Sept. 1839. He obtained 2,000 acres in Jersey Prairie, former name of Literberry. The original farm was ten miles north of Jacksonville. He was a member of the "Stoneite" or Christian Church, his wife a Lutheran. He is said to have spoken broken English and to have been referred to as a "Dutchman". He is also said to have been the one who changed the name from Leiter to Liter, although it seems most probable that it had been known as Liter for some time before.

B4E1-B. Mary Ann, b. 8-23-1833, Ky., first child of Sarah E. Liter. Helen Deaton Moody tells this legend: About 1836 Abraham and Sarah left two children of his first wife, Sarah Miller Liter, and the three oldest of Sarah E., namely, Mary Ann, Malinda and Amanda in the care of a negro mammy. She put poison on food where the children could get it. All but Malinda ate it and died. Abe and a posse found her hiding out, mentally deranged, and hanged her. She ate peaches all the way to the hanging. All of this affected Abe very much and the family soon moved to Illinois. However, as it happens, his father, brother and sisters also went to Illinois at this time.

B4J. Abraham Liter

He was born probably about 1784, married on April 25, 1808 in Bourbon County, Ky., to Sally Ament, born March 18, 1791, Bourbon Co., dau. of Philip Ament, and sister of Mary who m. Abraham's brother Henry-B4H. "The Liter Lineage", supposedly by George Liter, gives birth date as June 24, 1790, which seems late, and place as Henrico Co., Va. which must be wrong. Mention of this lineage came from a genealogist. It has not been found, nor any other reference to it. There are other definite errors in the data, and it should not be considered reliable.

- B4J1. David, m. Caroline Estes
- B4J2. Nancy
- B4J3. Rebecca
- B4J4. Abraham, b. 1811, m. Deborah Leer
- B4J5. John, b. 1812, m.
- B4J6. Joseph
- B4J7. Jacob, b. 1816, m. Elizabeth Hicks
- B4J8. Catharine
- B4J9. Philip, b. 1820, m. Letitia Hunter

B4J1. David was married in Bourbon Co., Ky. on 4-17-1828, to Caroline Estes. He sold land to Philip George Ament on 10-1-1830

- B4J2. Nancy
- B4J3. Rebecca

B4J4. Abraham, born 1811, on June 4, 1833, Bourbon Co., m. Deborah Leer, b. about 1806, dau. of Katherine. They probably lived near Cynthiana, Harrison Co., then evidently separated. In the 1850 Census, she lived with her brother Henry Leer, at Palmyra, Mo., with two sons named Liter. Abraham, on the other hand, is listed in Henry Co., Dist. # 1, with mother Sarah, and two sons.

- B4J4-A. Jerome, b. 4-18-1838, Ky., d. 3-28-1841, bur. Cynthiana
- B4J4-B. John, b. 1841, Ky., in Henry Co., in 1850, with father

B4J4-C. Jerome, b. 1842, Ky., m. Ida ..., b. 1856, N.Y., listed 1850 Census, at Hannibal, Mo., his name spelled Leighter.

- B4J4-C1. Russie, b. 1874, Mo.
- B4J4-C2. Estell, b. 1877, Mo.

B4J4-D. Philip, b. 1843, Ky., in Henry Co. in 1850

B4J4-E. Allen, b. 1847, Ky., m. Mary C. Trader, b. 1854, Minn., dau. of Lucretia Trader, living with them in 1880. He was a carpenter, res. Hannibal, Mo.

- B4J4-E1. Ella M., b. 1873, Mo.
- B4J4-E2. Mabel A., b. 1875, Mo.

B4J5. John, born July 13, 1812, Bourbon Co., died Jan. 12, 1885, Fayette Co. Dates appear sound. According to the "Liter Lineage", he married Joanna Harrison, dau. of Robert L. and Amelia. However, it seems certain that this is wrong, and that Joanna Harrison was the wife of John Liter-B3A6, listed in 1850 Census at Charleston, Clark Co., Ind., with wife Joanna, and John's parents also living with them. Data on descendants below is subject to question.

B4J5-A. John, Jr., b. 10-16-1834, Fayette Co.

B4J5-B. Elizabeth, b. 1837, Fayette Co.

B4J5-C. Charles, b. 7-1-1839, Fayette Co., d. 1900, Ill., on 6-10-1858, St. Francisville, Lawrence Co., Ill., m. Rebecca L. Thurston b. 7-21-1840, Fayette Co., dau. of James W. Thurston and Elizabeth Dawson. None of these first three children of John are found in Fayette Co. in the 1850 Census. Neither Charles nor his children are found in the 1860 Census at St. Francisville.

B4J5-C1. Joseph, two dates of birth shown in the "Lineage", 1859 and 10-7-1865, at St. Francisville, d. Portland, Ore., on 1-4-1883, St. Francisville, m. Elizabeth L. Henry, b. 1-10-1866, St. Francisville, d. Portland, Ore., dau. of James Henry and Susan. The family is not found in the Portland city directories 1880-1900.

B4J5-C1A. Pearl, b. 2-7-1884

B4J5-C1B. John, b. 1886, Portland, Ore.

B4J5-C1C. Walter, b. 1887, Portland

B4J5-C1D. Nancy J., b. 5-3-1889, Portland, on 1-13-1910, San Francisco, m. Kenneth Balis, b. 6-1-1888, Portland, son of Robert and Susan Balis.

B4J5-C1D1. Annette Balis, b. 1911, San Francisco

B4J5-C1D2. Kenneth Balis, b. 1913, San Francisco

B4J5-C1D3. George Liter Balis, b. 1914, San Francisco

B4J5-C2. Edith, b. 1860, St. Francisville, Ill.

B4J5-C3. James W., b. 1862, St. Francisville

B4J5-C4. Isaac, b. 1864, Ill.

B4J6. Joseph

B4J7. Jacob, born 1816, Ky., died before 4-25-1870 in Shelby Co., Ky., when his estate was probated. His wife is shown as E.C., in both the 1850 Census, when they were in Shelby Co., and in the estate papers, when guardian was appointed for children. It seems that his wife was Elizabeth Hicks, dau. of John, whom he married in Shelby Co., 6-21-1847. Jacob had many land transactions in Shelby Co. between 1849-1863.

B4J7-A. (dau.) A. Lighter, b. 1848, listed 1850, prob. d. bef. 1870

B4J7-B. Jacob, b. as all remaining children between 1849-1870

B4J7-C. Ellen

B4J7-D. Cassius

B4J7-E. John

B4J7-F. Brutus

B4J8. Catharine

B4J9. Philip, born 1820, Ky., died 1902, Eminence, Henry Co., buried Eminence cemetery, on 1-26-1843, Shelby Co., married Letitia Hunter, dau. of John, bur. same cemetery. A most unusual thing is that they are listed in both Shelby and Henry Cos. in the 1850 Census, with same children. They must have lived on the county line and were counted twice. Listed, 1880 Census, New Castle, Henry Co., occupation stone cutter. In 1850 listed as a miller.

B4J9-A. William H., b. 1844, Ky., listed 1880, Muhlenberg Co., Ky., farmer, wife Sue W., b. 1851, Ky.

B4J9-A1. Ernest, b. 1873, Ky.

B4J9-B. George S., b. 1846, Ky., d. 1892, tombstone at Eminence Cemetery, m. Harriett E., b. 1844, Ky., d. 1929, also bur. at Eminence. He was not listed in 1880 Census, when she lived with his father Philip and their son Elbert.

B4J9-B1. F. Elbert, b. 1872, Ky., d. 1952, bur. Eminence, deacon Eminence Baptist Church, on 10-17-1894, Henry Co., m. Elvessie Deakens, d. 1951

B4J9-B1A. Edward Everett, m. Iva Laud, res. Harlan, Ky.

B4J9-B1A1. Katherine, m.

B4J9-B1B. R. Vernon, m. Ann Pace, res. St. Mathews, Ky.

B4J9-B1C. (dau.), died at age 8

B4J9-B2. (dau.), lived in Frankfort, Ky.

B4J9-C. Catharine, b. 1849, listed 1850 Census

B4J9-D. Rebecca, b. 5-1-1852, Lockport, Ky.

B4J9-E. Lemuel P., b. 9-5-1855, Lockport, Ky., d. 1895, buried Eminence cemetery, on 6-22-1881, m. Laura P. Hunt, 1858-1888, bur. Eminence cemetery.

B4J9-F. Philip, Jr., b. 1856, painter, with father, 1880 Census

B4J9-G. Jessie, b. 1858, painter, with father, 1880 Census

B4J9-H. Sarah E., bur. Eminence cemetery

B4J9-L. Minnie M., b. 1864, listed 1880 Census with father, res. at one time in Missouri, but buried at Eminence cemetery

B5. Regina Leutert

She was christened June 30, 1748, at Maschwanden, Canton Zurich, Switzerland, also known as "Regula", married before 1775, to John Plumb. She is first mentioned in the records of the Reformed Church of Frederick, Md. at her confirmation in 1767, next in the will of Melchior in 1771 and then in the deed of 1775 to Andrew Smith, which names John Plumb and Regina alias Rachel of Virginia. On Nov. 14, 1775 John Plumb and Rachel of Hampshire Co., Va. appointed Henry Lighter of the county and colony aforesaid to sell lands in Frederick Co., Md. Recorded 12-23-1775, deed W-385. Possibly they moved to West Virginia about the same time as her brother Henry, which was about 1769. We have no record of descendants.

B6. Esther C. Leutert

Esther Catharine was born Nov. 11, 1750 in Pennsylvania, first child of Melchior born in this country and the first of his second wife, Salome. She died May 10, 1835, at Middletown, Md. In May 1773, she married Frederick Stempel, born 1745, Pennsylvania, died Nov. 16, 1840, Middletown. Both were buried in the old Lutheran cemetery back of the Middletown Lutheran Church. In 1951 this became a parking lot, so their graves were moved to the new Lutheran cemetery. Frederick was a 1st Lieutenant in Baker Johnson's Co. in the Revolution. He owned a large plantation in Frederick County. He was the son of Jacob (b. 1692) and Ann Catharine Stempel. Jacob came to this country with his father Nicholas on the Ship Mary, arriving Sept. 26, 1732, settled at Stemple's Ridge, Berks Co., Pa. Jacob died 1745-51; his wife remarried Johannes Adam Eberle. Esther's name was spelled Leutert in on the church record, the feminine form of Leutert.

B6H3. Mary Jane Hoffman, born Aug. 7, 1829

B6H4. Henry Fenton Hoffman, born May 10, 1833

B7. Anna Maria Leutert

She was born about 1751, probably near Jonestown, Lebanon Co., Pa., but not baptized until May 28, 1758, Reformed Church of Frederick, named after Anna Maria Leydert Dubs, sponsor at birth of Melchior,
Jr. Before May 3, 1775, she married George Michael Rohr (Rohrer), b.
April 16, 1753, son of Rudolph and Eva Catharine Rohr (record of German Reformed Church, Frederick). In the deed of Aug. 31, 1784, from the heirs of Salome to Elizabeth Getzendanner, Michael and Mary Rorer are placed in Prince George's County, Md. There were both Rohrers and Plumbs in Rockingham Co., Virginia, in 1810. Perhaps these families moved there. We have the record of only one child.

B7A. Eva Catharine Rohrer, born Feb. 24, 1776, baptized at the Reformed Church of Middletown, March 3, 1776, sponsors, Rudolph and Eva Rohr.

B8. Melchior Leutert, Jr.

He was born near Jonestown, Lebanon Co., Pa., baptized July 5, 1752, at the Swatara Reformed Church, sponsors Henry Dubs and his wife, Anna Maria (Leydert) Dubs. Parents were named, Melchior Leitert and wife Salome. It seems evident that he died young, in any case before his father's will was written in 1771.

B9. Henry Leitert

He was born Feb. 24, 1754, baptized at the Swatara Reformed Church, Jonestown, then Lancaster, now Lebanon Co., Pa. This date is also given on his tombstone. Sponsors at his baptism were Henry Dubs and wife Magdalena. He is named in his father's will as "Henry, the younger" to distinguish him from his half-brother Henry. He is established as a son of Melchior and Salome, by the record of his birth, and by the deed on Aug. 31, 1784 of Lot # 11, Addition to Fredericktown, Henry Lydert, brothers-in-law, Frederick Stomple and Michael Rohr and their wives as heirs of Solomey Lydert, to Elizabeth Getzendanner, (Fred. Co., WR 5, 122).

The family name is spelled Leydert at his birth in 1754, Leidert in 1767 (Frederick Ref. Ch. records), Leutert in his father's will in 1773, Leider at his confirmation in 1775, and variously in other records as Lyder, Liter, Lighter, etc. It first appears as Leiter in 1806 at the birth of a grandson. In his own will he himself spells it Lighdert. He is listed in the Census of 1790 as Henry Lighter, one male over 16, five under 16, three females, no slaves. There were various land transactions.

He bought land in 1781, 6 acres from Peter Beaver in 1783, sold an acre to Henry Marteney in 1796; in 1800, Henry Lyder bought 119 1/2 acres, tract "We Could Not Agree"; in 1809 sold 227 1/2 acres, tract "Brother's Kindness" to Jacob Staley. He lived on "We Could Not Agree", which became known as the family farm, and remained in the family 112 years, until 1912; this was about three miles west of Middletown, on the Sharpsburg Road, also known as Fox's Road. Henry was a blacksmith, and farmer. He was a Trustee of the Reformed Church of Middletown in 1800 and 1809 and Treasurer in 1815.

He married, May 27, 1780, Catharine Staley, who was born August 4, 1757, baptized March 3, 1758, German Reformed Church of Frederick, daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth. Jacob arrived in this country on Sept. 11, 1749 on the same ship as Melchior, name spelled "Stahli". This is a common Swiss name. Henry Staley, her brother, willed equal shares in "Brother's Kindness" to Henry Liter and Daniel Biser. His will indicates there was a brother Jacob (whose grand-daughter Elizabeth married Frederick Stemple, Jr.-B6D), sister Elizabeth Biser and sister Ann.

Henry died Sept. 2, 1823, Catharine Sept. 1, 1823. They were buried in the Reformed Church cemetery; their graves were in the churchyard until quite recently. The dates on his tombstone agree with the dates used in the Fox Genealogy and the Lighter History, which evidently came from family Bibles. His will gave his "plantation" to his son Peter. It provided that his daughters "while single to live with mother in my mansion house and to eat at her table during her life", and that negro slaves should not be sold "out of state or to any persons known as public traffickers in human flesh". His sons, John (who had gone west) and Jacob, received no land, but shared equally with the daughters in the distribution of the estate.

B9A. John Leiter

He was born Nov. 21, 1781, date from family Bible, reported in the "Lighter History". He was married Dec. 7, 1805, at her father's house, to Elizabeth Fox (Record, Evan. Luth. Church of Frederick). She was born Sept. 27, 1788 on her father's land, three miles west of Middletown, north and south of the Sharpsburg or Fox Road. Her father was Frederick Fox, born May 10, 1751, Hesse-Cassel, who came to the U.S. with his parents John Frederick and Christiana Fox, Sept. 27, 1752 on the Ship Anderson. John bought a lot in Frederick from Daniel Dulaney and lots in Sharpsburg from its founder Joseph Chaplin in 1763. The Fox children were: Daniel, Frederick, Magdelin, Michael and Rachel. The mother of Elizabeth was Catharine Booker, born May 1, 1748, dau. of Bartholomew and Margaret. The former owned land in Frederick Co. in 1760. He died about 1791, his wife 1796, both probably bur. at the Reformed Churchyard.

Frederick Fox was a drummer in Lt. Col. Hay's Co., 10th Pa. Rgt., 1777-81. It was organized in the counties on the Maryland line, engaged in the battles of Brandywine, Germantown and others. He is among the Revolutionary soldiers buried in Ohio. In 1787 he leased a tract of land from B. Booker and built a large two-story "German style" tavern of nine rooms. Actually, it was built before 1777. It was on Fox's Road, the main route west to Wheeling, before the National Pike was built in 1804. It was one of the oldest taverns of the area. Fox's Road also gave its name to Fox's Gap on South Mountain, where one of the battles of South Mountain was fought in the Civil War. (Battles of Civil War, vol. 2, Century, 1887, has map showing Fox's Gap, Fox Road and house of E. Lighter). George Washington stopped at the tavern. It is mentioned in the WPA Guide to Maryland, 1.9 mi. from the junction of US 40 and Catoctin Creek, as frequented by soldiers in the War of 1812, and used as a hospital after the Civil War battle.

Between 1800 and 1807 Frederick Fox remarried, and in 1807 moved to Warren Co., Ohio and bought the NW corner of Clear Creek Township. The party consisted of his children and their husbands and wives. When his second wife died he moved to the home of his dau. Elizabeth Leiter. In 1808 he bought 503 acres, S 1/2 and NW 1/4, Sec. 12, T2, R5, Miami Twp. Montgomery Co., near Miamisburg, which was divided among his son Daniel and sons-in-law. John and Elizabeth lived in a log house which stood until 1911, on a tract of 114 acres, the W 1-3 of the S 1/2 of Sec. 12. He died Sept. 16, 1825; she died March 14, 1854. Both buried in the St. John, or Gebhart, Church yard.

B9A1. Henry, born Feb. 14, 1806, baptized Henry Leiter, at the Reformed Church of Middletown, died Sept. 29, 1859 at Miamisburg buried at the St. John or Gebhart churchyard, on Gebhart Church Road. On Dec. 21, 1831, married Anna Gebhart, born May 1, 1812, Ohio, died Dec. 2, 1896, Sedalia, Mo., buried at Pleasant Hill Methodist cemetery southeast of Sedalia. She was the dau. of Emanuel Gebhart and Elizabeth Larose. He was born in Va., son of Nicholas, b. 1751, Lancaster Co., Pa., Pvt. 2nd Batt., 4th Co., 1782. Emanuel laid out the town of Miamisburg in 1818 with Jacob Kercher and Drs. Peter and John Treon. Rev. Jacob Larose, father of Elizabeth, was a soldier of the Revolution and said to have been the first Reformed minister in the county. Henry located on a tract of land adjoining the St. John church on the south. Listed in Miami Twp., 1850 Census, his wife's parents living with them. After his death, she went to Sedalia in Jan. 1869, bought a farm 5 1/2 miles southeast of town.

B9C. Jacob Lighter

He was born March 17, 1784, near Middletown, on the family farm, died August 1845, near Mt. Carroll, Ill. On April 7, 1810, Frederick Co., he married Esther Catharine Rebecca Smith (Frederick Co. records), born Dec. 20, 1790, Frederick Co., died Oct. 26, 1875, near Conrad, Grundy Co., Iowa, buried Alice Church Cemetery. She was the dau. of Jacob Smith and Anna Barbara Young; the latter was the dau. of Conrad, 1728-1825, and Mary M. 1731-1824, whose tombstones were recently still at the Zion Lutheran Church cemetery, Middletown. Jacob was not left any land by his father. In June 1845, he left with his family, and those of his son Solomon and sons-in-law Henry Slifer and Samuel Ludwick, in covered wagons, traveling six weeks to Mt. Carroll, Ill., where he died of typhoid fever. The family lived with Sam Yontz in a one room house. The 1850 Census lists Catharine with children Lydia and Jacob H. in Freedom Twp., Carroll Co., Ill.

B9C5. Solomon, born Dec. 27, 1819, Frederick Co., died Aug. 17, 1889 near Conrad, Grundy Co., Iowa, bur. Alice Church cemetery, baptized Ref. Church, Middletown. On July 17, 1844, Frederick Co., married Elizabeth Ann Long, born March 26, 1820, died March 17, 1899, dau. of John Long and Barbara Smith. As a young man he was a teamster, hauling merchandise over the National Turnpike. In Illinois, he ran a sawmill for Sam Yontz and built a log house on Plum River, near Lanark, Ill. In 1865, with other families, he moved to Grundy Co., Iowa. They farmed rented land while preparing homesteads. Solomon built a schoolhouse for which he donated the land. All of the pioneers planted trees as fast as possible on the bare prairie. He had a hymnal printed in German, Bellmeyer, 1799, inscribed "Jacob Lighdert", given to him by his father Henry. His daughter stated that Solomon changed the spelling from Lighdert to Lighter. "It has always been pronounced as it is at the present time, but it was formerly spelled Lighdert".

B9D. Henry Lighter

He was born Jan. 21, 1786, name on tombstone and on baptism at Reformed Church of Middletown, John Henry Leider, died March 27, 1864, buried Reformed Church cemetery. On Dec. 17, 1808, married Ann Miller also known as Nancy, born Aug. 24, 1790, died Jan. 24, 1853, bur. at Reformed Church, dau. of Conrad Miller. Property inherited from him was conveyed by Henry Lighdert and Ann Lighter to Jacob Young, 1811 and 1813. His father's will gave "son Henry Lighdert all my plantation upon which (he) now resides in Frederick County, 225 acres, to pay $ 30 an acre". Most descendants use the name Lighter, some use Leiter. Most of their children were baptized Leiter. Henry's will was probated in 1864, executor, son-in-law Josiah Remsberg. It gave cash and personal property to five daughters "whereas all my sons during my lifetime received their full shares of my estate". Henry was a Commissioner of Middletown, 1848-1858.

B9D3. Susanna, born Dec. 1, 1810. This date, from church record, is apparently too close to that of the next older child, Lawson, May 2, 1810; but at her baptism at the Zion Lutheran Church of Middletown, where the other children of Henry were baptized, she is shown as the child of Heinrich Leider and wife, sponsor Elizabeth Remsburg B9D4. Elizabeth, born May 21, 1813, died Oct. 10, 1880, baptized at Zion Lutheran Church, mentioned in her father's will in 1864, on April 14, 1831, mar. Joseph Routzahn, born 1813, d. 1886, Md., the first owner of the Routzahn & Bowers Lumber Yard.

B9D6. Henry, born 1818, Frederick Co., died Jan. 18, 1868, probably in Champaign Co., Ill., on Oct. 27, 1842, m. Catharine Elizabeth Getzendanner, b. 1820, Frederick Co., d. 1-26-1884, dau. of Jonathan Getzendanner and Elizabeth Derr. Listed 1850 Census, Frederick Co., name spelled Lighter. The family legend is that he did not like the settlement of his father's estate, went west to Wheeling, West Va., where he had a store, took up a section of land in Champaign, Ill., later went to Wellington Kansas, then back to Illinois. The supposed reason for going west seems doubtful, however, since his father did not die until 1864. The children are listed in the Steiner family history, L.H. and B.C. Steiner, 1896, name spelled Leiter, which is the form used by the family.

B9F. Elizabeth Lighter

She was born Aug. 28, 1790, near Middletown, baptized Leider, Reformed Church, died Dec. 24, 1863, buried Reformed cemetery. The Lighter History says of the four unmarried sisters that "they all lived in the same fine old home, and lived to be quite old". The 1850 Census lists Elizabeth, Barbara, Mary and Hannah Lighder, Middletown District next to their brother Peter. In "Battles and Leaders of the Civil War" Vol. II, Century Co., 1887, accompanying an article on the "Battle of South Mountain-Turner's and Fox's Gaps" is a map showing Fox's Gap on the old Fox or Sharpsburg Road, on which is the house of E. Lighter.

B9I. Peter Lighter

He was born Feb. 2, 1795, baptized Leidert, died Feb. 24, 1863, farmer, member Reformed Church. His father's will gave to "son Peter Lighdert plantation on which I reside, tract called "We Could Not Agree", 118 1/2 acres, to pay $ 45 an acre." This was the original farm of Henry Leiter-B9. It had a valuation of $ 12,000 in the 1850 Census, with the family living there. On Dec. 7, 1824, he married Elizabeth Everhart, born Jan. 24, 1805, died July 21, 1859, daughter of Jacob Everhart. She was the niece of Laurence Everhart, sergeant in the Revolution, who saved the life of Gen. Lafayette after he was wounded in the Battle of Brandywine, 9-11-1777, and that of Col. William Washington at the Battle of Cowpens 7-17-1781. A 12 foot marble shaft marks his grave in Middletown. (Williams History of Frederick County; WPA Guide to Maryland)

Family Connections Unknown

Listed here are several family groups whose connection with either of the two families in this book has not been established, despite considerable effort.

It is hoped that the material presented in the book will be of some assistance to people of these families in their efforts to trace their families, in suggesting leads and furnishing inspiration.

It might be hoped, further, that listing of such groups here will produce some response with ideas and suggestions from readers that will be helpful.

Washington D.C. Family

There is a possible relationship of this family with the previous one based on the following slim evidence: 1. That William H. (for Henry?) is said to have had a brother John. 2. That Sarah, below, named her brothers John T. and William in her will. 3. The name Henry occurs in both families. 4. That John was born in Maryland.

1. William is known only from mention in Sarah's will

2. Joseph is known only from recollection of family as a brother

3. Mary E., is just possibly a sister in that she was married in Washington, D.C. on 3-4-1847 to John Skidmore.

4. John T. Lighter, born in Maryland, 6-13-1828, d. after 1900, not in Washington, D.C. where he lived. It is said to have been he who changed the name from Leiter to Lighter. It has also been said that his father's name was John. His mother's name is said to have been Cassandra Dorsey, but there is some doubt and some mystery about it. The story is told that a grandchild remembers some men coming to the house for a signature on some papers; when her grandmother signed a different name and she wondered why, she was bidden to be silent. On 12-30-1851, John m. Mary Ann Townsend, b. 9-1-1830, d. between 1860 and 1863, dau. of Samuel and Catharine Townsend; he m.2- on 5-5-1863, Mary V. Briggs, dau. of Samuel and Mary Ann E. Briggs.

Leiter Family of Lockport, New York

It may not belong to one of our general families. There is evidence, although not conclusive, that the earliest members were born in Germany, around 1800. This comes from Susan B. Leiter and from a death certificate, although these are not always strictly accurate in such matters. The 1880 Census states otherwise. In any case, the dates go back far enough to warrant listing the family here, at least to distinguish it from others.

Samuel, possibly a brother of George B., below, b. 1792, Germany, according to 1850 Census, where he is listed at Lockport, N.Y., with son Jacob, b. 1824, also shown as Germany.

George B., b. about 1800-05, possibly Germany, married Margaret Hoover, res. Lockport, N.Y.

Swiss family in preliminary pages- two errors on second page. First line for Heinrich, after "Aargau" should read "moved to Ottenbach (died there)". Elogius was christened Jan. 25, 1635

Page 86- New York family of Jacob-A2F. Late data from Cora, dau. of Eckron-A2F7-I, who had it from Ruth Keyes (Kize?), wife of Martin, about 1912. She lists other ch. for Jacob-A2F:

George, d. young; Syrenus (had dau. Ruth), could be our A2F4
John-A2F1-A, b. 1820; Samuel A2F1-B, b. 1822

It would seem impossible for the last two to be ch. of Jacob-A2F, since Mary Catharine was b. 1765 (date from her death certificate), and would have been 57 in 1822, year of Samuel's birth.

She also adds for Jacob A2F1: Catherine, m. Bill Borrows, dau. (our Caroline) who m. John Peet, and for:

Henry-A2F6: Children- Kiefer, Jacob, Henrietta

Amelia-A2F3: Son John

John-A2F1-A: Children Frank & Emma

Mary-A2F7-G: m. Mr. Clark

Eckron-A2F7-I: daus. Nora and Cora

Burton-A2F7-J1: m. Mildred Sexton, had ch. Betty & William E.

P. 368- It is suggested that Joseph B. Lighter was a son of Henry C. Liter- B4H4-A in spite of the spelling difference. His date of birth fits and the place is significant, as well as his name.

B3E- Mary M. Liter. Late data gives birth of Amasa 1-17-1775, d. 12-19-1853, m. 2-11-1808. Ch.: Elizabeth (b.1808), Maacah, William, John, Sarah, Eli, Nancy & David

Pp. 211-15, #'s B4C5-6-7 should read B4C6, B4C7, B4C8

P. 210. New material gives b. date for Matilda-B4C6, 6-14-1807, says Henry-B4C6-B (shd. be B4C7-B), was in the Union Army. Martha m. 1-3-1893, James H. Righter, b. 11-16-1881, d. 12-3-1943, who m. her sister 11-16-1896. Samuel G. said to have d. abt. 1915. Ch. of Lillian & Will Voss: Donighan(?), Cleo & Dorothy. Pleasant Snedigar was son of William Snedigar & Lucilla Cox; descendant of Jan., arr. New Amsterdam 1639, appointed Magistrate of Flatbush by Peiter Stuyvesant 1654.

Index

The Leiter names, of whatever spelling, will be listed first. Since the form of spelling was often inconsistent and frequently changed and sometimes impossible to determine, it is more convenient to list them together. They will be arranged alphabetically by first names. Where there are many of one name, after those for whom we have no middle name, or date of birth, they will be in order of the middle name or initial.

Some other names may be combined, as Beaver-Beavers, Hayes-Hays, Kiser-Kisor, etc. Groups with a large number of names will be found in a supplement. In addition to descendants, names of husbands and wives, where known, are included. The wives are indexed by their maiden names.
